MANSFIELDER KILLED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Louis Cahina, 69, Dies Two Hours After Accident on Park Avenue East.

CITY'S SECOND VICTIM

Death Brings Richland County Toll For Year to 13 With 22 Recorded Year Ago.

Mansfield's second 1942 traffic death, bringing the Richland county total to 13 as compared to 22 as of a year ago, occurred last night when Louis Cahina, 69, also known as Steve Fulton or Faltin, was fatally injured when hit by an auto driven by Paul E. Jones, 22, Mansfield R. D. 2, at Park avenue east and Foster street.

Cahina died at 10:30 p. m. in General hospital of a skull fracture and other injuries suffered in the accident which occurred two hours earlier. Cahina was born in Czecho Slavakia where his wife presumably still lives, in 1879 and came to Manfield in 1920 to work at the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company. He lived alone at Orange street and Seventh avenue. The body is at the Finefrock funeral home.

This date last Year—22.

According to Motorcycle Patrolmen Arthur Conrady and Charles Letizia Cahina was hurled more than 20 feet by the impact. Skid marks on the pavement extended for 60 feet, the patrolmen reported.

Jones was released from custody following questioning at headquarters.

Traffic fatalities in Mansfield have been held to a minimum, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals contends, as a result of a planned safety training program in the public and parochial schools and a constant motorcycle patrol extending into all sections of the city.

IT'S A SPLIT

Ferguson Breaks With New Deal Over Pensions Charge.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio's Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson broke with the New Deal today and expressed hope that the newly-elected Republican congressmen will "cut to pieces New Deal bureaucracy."

Ferguson's break was prompted by President Roosevelt's refusal to countenance his request for an investigation of old age pension administration in Ohio shortly before the election. A statement from the White House said Ferguson's request was "motivated by politics just before the gubernatorial election."

Ferguson said today he had been advised by Presidential Secretary Marvin McIntyre that his complaint that the Bricker administration was "playing politics" with old age pensions would be investigated.

U. S. SHIP SUNK

Medium-Sized U. S. Vessel Shelled And Torpedoed By Foe.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The navy announced today that a medium-sized United Nations merchant ship, torpedoed and shelled by an enemy submarine, sank early in October in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America. Survivors have been landed at an east coast United States port.

IN STATUS QUO

U. S. To Leave Martinique In French Hands—Provided.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Martinique and other French possessions in the western hemisphere will be left in French hands so long as this government is satisfied no pro-Axis activities are being carried on there, competent congressional sources said today.

Deadline's Near, But Completion Of Route 30-N Grade Work Isn't

Belated Probe to Be Launched by State.

With 13 working days left before the Nov. 30 deadline for completion of the U. S. Route 30-N grade separation project just west of Mansfield, it was obvious today that the work would not be completed on schedule by Lombardo Brothers, Cleveland contractors, regardless of state action on their August request for an extension of time on the contract.

Started July 1, 1941,—17 months ago—the job has lagged while equipment was moved to other jobs, the contractors representing that government priorities delayed for three months the mill fabrication of structural steel for the B. and O. railroad overhead passage and the subway under the Erie railroad tracks.

To date, a 22-foot concrete pavement has been completed between the two bridges and dirt is being hauled from the Erie subway to the section between the B. and O. and West Fourth street.

Ira Baker, federal project engineer on the job, said today that every effort will be made to install a temporary junction with West Fourth street and a union with the old pavement west of the Erie so that motorists can use the south traffic channel this fall.

Director Hal Sours of the state highway department today told The News-Journal that an immediate investigation will be launched, however belatedly, to determine the need for an extension but denied any knowledge of "stalling" by the contractors during the 17 months the job has been in progress.

"The department," Sours declared, "will insist that work be carried on so long as humanly possible in order to not longer than neces-

COLD WAVE ON WAY, WARNING

Mercury Due to Skid to 20's By Night; Lake Traffic Halted By Gale.

The season's first cold wave was bearing down on Mansfield and northern Ohio today and readings of 20 degrees or lower were forecast by tonight.

A gale that halted Lake Erie traffic and pounded waterfront piers in the Sandusky and Cleveland areas blew the cold into the state from the northwest. No major damage was reported in the Richland county area. The weatherman said the wind would diminish by this afternoon and tonight.

The temperature fell three degrees in Mansfield this morning with the mercury registering 30 at noon. Readings in

SISTERS HAVE DAUGHTERS

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Daughters were born on the same day at Lakewood hospital to Mrs. Fred Waikenmeyer and Mrs. Arthur Wilms, sisters. They also have three-year-old sons.

WANTS DIVORCE

Mary Astor To Seek Freedom From Her Third Husband.

HOLLYWOOD —(U.P.)— Actress Mary Astor said today that she will file suit for divorce from Manuel Del Campo, Mexican socialite, Royal Canadian air force pilot, and her third husband.

They eloped Feb. 18, 1937, shortly after Miss Astor's court battle with her former husband, Dr. Frankly P. Thorpe, for custody of Daughter Marilyn. It was then that the lurid pages of her diary were read in court and described in the nation's newspapers.

STEEL RUINED

YOUNGSTOWN — (U.P.) — Production was slowed down today by an explosion that damaged blast furnaces at the Ohio works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation plant during the night and burned five men.

Plant officials said they believed a high wind was responsible for the explosion when it blew down power lines.

Thousands of tons of steel were ruined as the No. 5 and No. 6 furnaces exploded. Police explained the wind blew down lines carrying 50,000 volts and the lines grounded on the rails of the plant's transportation system.

DRAFT AWAITS FDR SIGNATURE

Call of Some 18-19 Youths By Christmas Seen as Senate Passes Bill.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The 'teen age draft bill awaited President Roosevelt's signature today. Prompt action would mean that some 18 and 19 year old youths might be called to the army by Christmas.

About 800,000 youngsters out of a total of approximately 1,500,000 available 18 and 19 year olds are expected to be called up this winter, deferring the same number of married men and men with families. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has estimated that his selective service organization will "lose" possibly 500,000 of the 1,500,000 to the army, navy and marine corps through voluntary enlistment.

The group liable to service takes in all youths who had passed their eighteenth birthdays on the last registration date, April 27.

The senate debated nearly five hours yesterday before adopting by voice vote the recommendations of a joint senate-house conference committee which eliminated an amendment requiring 12 months pre-combat training.

Sirens to Call Mobilization Of Defense Units on Dec. 6

Mansfield's first test mobilization of all civilian defense enrollees will be held at 7 p. m. on Dec. 6 in conjunction with the Junior Association of Commerce "Pearl Harbor" bond-selling demonstration which will commemorate the first anniversary of Japan's surprise attack on Hawaii.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, defense co-ordinator, announced the test today following a conference with Paul Eliot, county war bond chairman.

This test also will be the first tryout of the 10 air raid signal sirens which will be installed during the next two weeks, according to James A. McDermod, technical committee chairman, and Ernest Adams, city electrician, who will direct the installation.

During the test, air raid wardens will distribute pledges to every home in their respective sectors asking members of each household to pledge their co-operation with civilian defense groups, even to enrollment for some active part in the program, Judge Kalbfleisch said.

Every unit of the civilian defense organization, and every enrolled worker will be ordered to report to his or her station when the alert is sounded. This will include all emergency medical units at first aid casualty stations, rescue squads, feeding and housing units, Red Cross groups, police and fire auxiliaries and others.

TOUGHER FUND GOING SLOWS UP COMMANDOS

Only $3,725 More Added To War Chest Total; $9,233 Still Needed.

SOME DIVISIONS FAILING

Commando Heads Optimistic, However, as Drive Goes Into Last Day.

War Chest Commandos started the uphill fight today—a battle to get the last $9,233 needed to reach their $140,377 objective by tomorrow night.

While the amount is not a large one, the Commandos have exhausted most of their pledge sources and they were beginning to experience tough sledding in the fifth day of their offensive.

Tabulation of pledges at noon today showed a total of $131,144 raised, only $3,725 more than what was reported yesterday.

While several campaign divisions were going well over their quotas, the Cammandos started to feel the pinch when other division reports indicated they may fall short of their goals.

Industry, which has reported $83,000 against a quota of $84,500, is holding up well and predictions are that it will go over the top, Commando headquarters said.

On the other hand, two other divisions, public employes and education are falling short of their goal. Public employes which include employes of city and county government, had a quota of $3,900 and has reported $950 raised. The education division, school teachers and other school employes, has a quota of $3,250 and has reported $1,692 raised.

Major General Fred B. Hout today ordered all Commando majors to submit their final reports by 8 p. m. Saturday, closing day of the drive.

"It is true that we have slowed up considerably and the picture is not as bright as it was at first, but we still believe that our objective will be reached. If every one pitches in and does his part, if he has not done it already, there is no question but that we'll be over the top tomorrow."

LAY NO EGGS

FDR Says Setting Hens Fail To Hatch Any News.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Roosevelt greeted reporters at his press conference today with the remark that he had no news but did have some setting hens that had not laid any eggs yet.

In response to a reporter's question on the appointment of a food czar, the chief executive laughingly responded that he was not going to tell too much about his hens.

Then, to the amusement of everyone in the room, a reporter asked: "Is the Hatch act stopping you?" At this, the president leaned back in his chair, and had a hearty laugh.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (INS) —The war department announced today that Captain William T. Cherry, jr., a companion of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, who was reported lost in the Pacific on Oct. 23, was picked up in the South Pacific on Nov. 12.

"From such information as Capt. Cherry was able to furnish," the war department said, "it is believed possible that other survivors may be on life rafts in the same general vicinity." The war department said that an intensive search of the area is being made by surface vessels and long range planes.

CHASE ROMMEL 80 MILES INTO LIBYA, PRESS WESTWARD

'Fixed' Africa

In a thrilling 15,000-mile trip that had all the dramatic elements of an E. Philips Oppenheim story, Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark (above) and a party of aids "fixed" the French colonies of north Africa for the big Allied invasion. Lieut. Gen. Clark hid in a wine cellar, lost his pants and $25,000 in gold; but he brought back full defailed plans of vital military installations and as a result his rank was raised yesterday from major general to lieutenant general.

British Report Six Italian Troop Planes Shot Down at Sea as U. S. Speed Synchronized Sweep Toward Tunisian Border.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—The Moscow radio said today that Adolf Hitler had dismissed Marshal Albert Kesselring, commander of the Axis air force in the Mediterranean, for failure to tip off the German high command on the American and British offensive in North Africa.

(By Associated Press)

British headquarters today announced the capture of historic Tobruk, 80 miles inside Libya, and at the same time there were indications that the Axis might be quitting Tunisia in northwest Africa.

Britain's victorious desert armies, climaxing a 305-mile sweep in 22 days, entered Tobruk this morning, it was officially announced.

They had previously captured Bardia, 15 miles inside Libya, and Halfaya ("Hellfire") Pass on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier.

The German radio conceded the loss of the prize Mediterranean citadel within an hour after a special British war bulletin announced its capture.

This was the second time the port, in Axis hands since last June 22, had fallen to the British.

Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's broken armies were now apparently in wild flight as the British reported that waves of RAF planes swept low over retreating Axis truck and troop columns fleeing from Tobruk to Gazala, 30 miles further west.

British mobile columns were reported in hot pursuit of the retreating Nazis, who previously had abandoned most of their Italian allies in the Egyptian desert in an attempt to make good their own escape.

British dispatches said six large Italian troop-carrying planes filled with German soldiers "flying north, probably from Tunisia," had been shot down into the sea by RAF fighters.

This conceivably could mean that the Axis was abandoning Tunisia without a fight after landing from 2,000 to 3,000 air-borne troops and fliers in the French protectorate.

Anglo-American troop columns numbering perhaps as high as 150,000 men were reported near the Tunisian frontier, racing eastward in a synchronized sweep to

QUAILING ITALY PROPS DEFENSES

'Stop Trembling,' People Told as Reports Hint Morale Grows Weaker.

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
(Former Chief of Rome Bureau of Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Faced with its first threat of invasion in the war, a quailing Italy is hastily looking to its defenses against American and British troops, Radio reports today indicated.

The obvious apprehension among the Fascists was considered all the more significant by those acquainted with wartime Italy because an Allied invasion still is believed here to be a long way off.

Italian morale, meanwhile, almost certainly has reached a new low as the first effect of Allied occupation of French North Africa. This statement is based on first-hand knowledge of the fluctuations of Italian morale in the

ACTRESS DIES

Laura Hope Crews, Who Starred in Silver Chord, Succumbs.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Laura Hope Crews, 62, stage and screen actress, died early today at the Le Roy sanitorium here after a four months illness.

Probably her best-known play was her performance as Mrs. Phelps in "The Silver Chord," in New York in 1926. The play later was produced as a movie. One of her late screen appearances was in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" in 1941.

TROOPS ESCAPE

Americans, Trapped As Trains Crash In England, Rescued.

LONDON — (AP) — An express train laden with American, British and fighting French troops collided with a freight train near Oxford today and two crewmen were killed.

A number of the service men were trapped temporarily in the wreckage, but none was injured seriously, authorities said.

RENEWED: Solomons Battle Flares; U. S. Bombers Hit Ships

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The tempo of the battle of the Solomons is increasing again today after a lull of nearly three weeks and there are signs that the Japanese have reorganized and reinforced to some extent the forces which were badly battered last month.

Enemy divebombers have returned to the battle of Guadalcanal.

Crowded transports are in the vicinity of Bougainville Island, some 300 miles north of Guadalcanal.

But the divebombers met their match over Guadalcanal and 17 out of 52 raiders were destroyed and five more probably destroyed. It was the first time in weeks the Japanese have used divebombers, indicating that aerial reinforcements have arrived.

North of Guadalcanal, army Flying Fortresses under Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command nipped what may have been the beginning of another major invasion attempt.

Roaring over the Buin-Faisi naval anchorage at the southern tip of Bougainville Island at dawn, the big army bombers scored hits on four Japanese transports which were loaded with troops and equipment, and probably inflicted heavy losses.

MacArthur's medium bombers attacked the enemy airfield at Buin-Faisi earlier, catching enemy planes on the ground, starting eight fires and inflicting damage that was believed to beheavy.

The MacArthur attack came Thursday (Solomons Island time.) The previous day—Armistice day—Grumman Wildcat fighter planes took their high toll of enemy divebombers which came over in two waves. But the American losses

SATISFACTORY: FDR Reports Franco Sends Reply to Message

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt said today he had received a very satisfactory reply from General Francisco Franco, head of the Spanish state, to his message assuring Spain that the American expedition to North Africa was in no way directed against Spanish territory.

The president, talking at his press conference, gave no details of the Franco reply and said also he had no information whether the Bey of Tunis had answered his message requesting permission to send troops across French Tunisia.

In his message to Franco at the outset of the North African campaign, the chief executive only assured the general that the invasion was in no shape, manner or form directed against the government or people of ASHLAND — Ashland common pleas court has set Nov. 19 at 10 a. m. as the time of hearing on preliminary questions in the suit for appropriation of property of the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy district against George W. and Belle Scott of Mansfield R. D. 4.

The report of William T. Devor in the suit of Lois Rickel against Lera Shambaugh, et al., has been approved in common pleas court. The report shows $586 collected in rents with expenses of $97.06, leaving a balance of $438.94 to be distributed.

The court has ordered the following distribution: Clyde Brindle $13.02, Lois Rickel $104.30, Lera Shambaugh $104.30, Clair Brindle $108.66, Cleve Brindle $108.66, and the receiver discharged from further accounting.

George Wesner, 23, of Cleveland road, paroled from the Mansfield reformatory, was turned over to O. E. Seibert, county probation officer yesterday, following his arrest by Ashland police on a charge of theft of $60 from a restaurant on Fourth street owned by Charles Rosenbluh.

Wesner was accused of having taken the money from the cash register at the Rosenbluh restaurant Wednesday afternoon after the waitress had gone to the kitchen to prepare a lunch which he had ordered. Arrested on suspicion when he left the Faultless Rubber company Wednesday evening where he was employed, Wesner denied taking the money.

But when his billfold was found at the side of the seat in the police cruiser in which he was taken to the police station, with 12 five-dollar bills in it, Wesner confessed.

Tygers End Grid Season Tonight Against Woodward

Sport Podge by REX HESS

Make-up of Mansfield high school's football schedule for next fall will depend a great deal on how increasing wartime transportation problems are met during the coming basketball season, according to Athletic Director Harry Mehock of the Mansfield schools.

Under ordinary conditions Mansfield would have the same schedule next year that it has had this season, with perhaps one game added.

But these are not ordinary conditions, and Mansfield may even have to suspend several existing contracts until after the war.

The Tygers next year will still have the second half of home-and-home, two-year contracts to fill with Massillon, Canton McKinley, Portsmouth, Niles, Elyria and Toledo Woodward, according to Mehock.

Similar contracts with Springfield and Sandusky were completed this season, but both schools have asked for a renewal of the two-year agreements.

Whether conditions would make the long trips on that schedule possible is one question. Whether the government will even permit such trips is another. No one knows the answers.

Mehock has discussed the idea of a Mansfield-Ashland game in 1943 with Ashland officials, and Ashland is considering the proposition.

Marion also has asked for a place on the 1943 program of the Tygers.

Inclusion of these two short games and elimination of two long trips might go a long way toward solving the Tyger transportation in 1943. Both Ashland and Marion could have given Mansfield a good gridiron argument this season, probably as good as half the teams on the Tyger card.

Ashland may have to turn down a game with Mansfield. Bill McKee points out in the Ashland Times-Gazette that Mansfield and Ashland severed football relations on friendly terms, that Ashland felt year in and year out Mansfield would be too big for Ashland. But there's nothing to prevent scheduling a game now and then.

But McKee also says that Ashland's schedule is already well set up for next year within a small area, with the longest trip for Ashland being the 40-mile jaunt to Mt. Vernon. Ashland wouldn't be saving mileage or tires by booking Mansfield.

Why not play in a county league?

Wooley Connects For 607 Total

Al Wooley rolled all three games over the 200 mark to take scoring honors in the Mansfield high school bowling league at Colony alleys yesterday with a 607 total. He had 203-202-202 for as consistent a performance as the alleys have seen this year.

Three Teams Lined Up for Cage Loop

Three teams were definitely lined up for a City "A" basketball league at a meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. building, and if a fourth can be obtained the league will start early in December, Physical Director John Fike announced today.

The teams now in the league are Westinghouse, Yuncker Sports, and Mansfield Athletic Supply. Efforts are being made to get Blue Goose in the fold.

A final organization meeting will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the "Y."

Buckeyes Battle For Top

Chips Are Down in Game With Illini Tomorrow.

By JOHN H. COLBURN

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Records and other statistical paraphernalia of the "form" players went out the window today as Ohio State and Illinois came here for their Western conference title-bearing football game in Cleveland's lakefront stadium tomorrow.

The chips will be down for a loss would topple one of the teams from the top conference rung they now share with Iowa. So you can forget the records which show Ohio hasn't lost to Illinois since 1934 and holds a 16 to 12 edge in games won—with two tied—in 30 years of Ohio-Illinois gridiron rivalry.

Offensively and defensively, the statistics of this year's play give the Bucks an edge but this is a new football era for the Illini and statistics don't count. They didn't against Minnesota and Northwestern when ball-stealing won for the alert Illini.

These two elevens are famous for staging hair-raising games and this may be no exception for the 60,000 or more fans who'll brave the breezes of Lake Erie to see the tilt which was shifted from Champaign, Ill.

Ohio and Illinois were scheduled for brief workouts this afternoon in the stadium to "warm-up" after their train rides here.

Closing their heavy workouts at Columbus yesterday, the Bucks eased up on passing practice and devoted most of a fast, snappy session to formulating defenses to stop the Illini's swift attack.

For the first time this season, Ohio will run up against an opposing line that can match the Bucks in speed—and speed, if the footing is dry, is expected to play a big part in the game's outcome.

Illinois' ace passer, Halfback Dick Good, is suffering from knee injuries and may be unable to play.

Ohio may start the same lineup that it did against Pitt with the possible exception of Don McCafferty of Cleveland replacing William Willis, Columbus sophomore, at left tackle. Willis was on the bench with a lame leg last week.

Illinois has lost only two games, to Notre Dame 21 to 14 and Michigan 28 to 14. It beat South Dakota 46 to 0, Butler 67 to 0, Minnesota 20 to 14, Iowa 12 to 7, and Northwestern 14 to 7.

Ohio was upset by Wisconsin 17 to 7, in a game which knocked the Bucks from the national leadership, and won from Fort Knox 59 to 0, Indiana 32 to 21, Southern California 28 to 12, Purdue 26 to 0, Northwestern 20 to 6 and Pittsburgh 59 to 19.

Strings Along With Buckeyes

Guesser Also Picks Irish Over Michigan.

By HERB BARKER

Michigan-Notre Dame: You can tie yourself into a fine knot if you try to come up with the winner of this one by looking over their records and draw the appropriate comparisons. The coin says . . . Notre Dame.

Ohio State-Illinois: Very close. However, this guesser strings along with Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Northwestern: The Badgers should have recovered from their shocking upset by Iowa and rate the nod.

Texas-Texas Christian: The Horned Frogs seem to have run into a slump. Texas.

Baylor-Tulsa: Tulsa.

Missouri-Oklahoma: This should be the spot for the Tigers to clinch the Big Six crown again. Missouri.

Yale-Princeton: Both in-and-outers. Out of the hat . . . Princeton.

Oregon - Southern California: Southern California.

Columbia-Navy: Governali will test Navy's aerial defenses to the limit but the vote must go to the Midshipmen.

Dartmouth-Cornell: Cornell.

Brown-Harvard: Sheer guessing. Brown.

Colgate - Syracuse: Ditto. Syracuse.

Duquesne-Mississippi State: Looks like Duquesne simply hasn't got it this season. Mississippi State.

Holy Cross-Temple: Holy Cross, stubbornly.

Nebraska-Pitt: May be the spot for Pitt to get back on the track. Pitt.

Penn State-Penn: Usually close. Penn.

Duke-North Carolina: Stringing along with Duke.

Iowa - Minnesota: Doubtfully, Minnesota.

Kansas State-Indiana: No contest. Indiana.

Mississippi-Tennessee: Tennessee.

Oregon State-Stanford: Taking Stanford.

Purdue-Michigan State: Eenie, meenie . . . Michigan State.

Texas A. & M.-Rice: Even-Stephen. The Aggies.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist: Should be S. M. U.

West Virginia-Kentucky: West Virginia.

Keck Collects Total of 679

Johnny Villella Rolls High B-League Game.

Commercial "B" league keglers were banging the maples around like country cousins at Colony alleys last night, paced by Joe Keck's sparking 679 series on a string of 246-220-213. It was one of the best scores turned in this season on the Third street lanes in any league.

Kent Rummel had to turn in a 3-0 win over Yuncker Sports to retain its one game margin over Mehl's Canfield station, who shut out Uhlich's bakers.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Did you know that there's a football team representing one of the "major" eastern colleges that is undefeated so far and hasn't had a nickel's worth of publicity about it? . . . The team is Princeton's 150-pound outfit, which may come through to another title if it can knock off Penn today. . . . The lightweights get only four games this year, since Yale and Lafayette suspended operations in the eastern 150-pound league.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Jack Clowser, Cleveland News: "The inventive genius of the modern scientist is likely to figure the answers to anything. They know how to knock out Stukas, put the kibosh on pneumonia in a few days and operate planes with no human beings in them. It will only be another decade or two before they learn how to stop Don Hutson."

SHORTS AND SHELLS.

Although the Sun Bowl game has been called off, El Paso fans like their post-season football so much that they've invited the second air force team from Fort George Wright, Wash., to play there Dec. 12, probably against Hardin-Simmons. . . . The Mineralites bowling team of Chicago needed only an hour and 45 minutes to roll a 3234 score recently, which should be a lesson to athletes who claim you have to "take your time" to be good.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGH JINKS.

Here are some of the kids that high school grid fans think are the season's champs (no college scouts are allowed to beat the starting gun): Bob Lucas of Paulding, O., high has scored 272 points and gained 1,714 yards from scrimmage in seven games. . . . Juke Honn of Anamosa, Ia., completed 77 of the first 84 passes he threw this season for 1,434 yards. . . . And Bob "General" Lee of New Castle, Pa., has gained 1,145 yards by rushing in 130 tries, completed 21 of 45 passes, scored 15 touchdowns and, as safety man, hasn't let an opponent get past him to score. . . . Oh yes, he does the punting and calls the signals.

Eleven Seniors Don Uniform Last Time

Mansfield Given Chance To Win Fourth Victory On Dads' Night

HOPING to partly balance the budget for the 1942 season, Mansfield high school Tygers ring down the curtain tonight at Stadium field against Toledo Woodward's Bears, seeking their fourth victory against five defeats.

Backfield Coach Vern Hoffman and Athletic Director Harry Mehock who will have charge of the Tygers tonight, have both scouted Woodward and both believe that Mansfield has a chance to win.

But both report that the Tygers will have to play heads-up ball on both offense and defense. Woodward uses more offensive formations than any team the Tygers have played this year, and they follow anything but an orthodox style of play. Particularly dangerous is their passing with Varwig floating long passes to Santus, and with Santus heaving left-handed tosses.

While Woodward hasn't a very impressive record, it has been beaten badly only once this season, by Defiance 35 to 0, and Defiance is reported to have the best team in its history.

Coach Paul Snyder had hopes of returning to the team for tonight's game, but he was ordered back to bed once this week by his physician, and the cold weather made it unlikely that he would be on hand for the kickoff. He has been ill for two weeks with influenza.

It will be Dad's night at Stadium field, with fathers of the Tygers sitting on the bench and wearing numbers corresponding to those worn by their sons.

Eleven Mansfield seniors will be donning Tyger grid togs for the last time. They are: Dick Butterfield, Bill Boyce, Jim Burrage, Dick Calhoun, Art Goettl, Gene Hetler, Bill Hallabrin, Frank Rachel, Jerry Snyder, Bill Snowden and Bill Smith.

Probable starting lineups:

Mansfield	Pos.	Woodward
Burrage	LE	Knierim
Snyder	LT	Paradysz
Goettle	LG	Norman
Snowden	C	Wisnewski
Hetler	RG	Puls
Guy	RT	Piasecki
Lewis	RE	Bucher
Rachel	QB	Sloan
Schmidt	LH	Varwig
Boyce	RH	Santus
Zivkoff	FB	Ustaszewski

Comedy Film.

Marjorie Main, who has heckled Wallace Berry comically in recent pictures, comes into her own in a role that might have been specially written for her, as the redoubtable Letitia Carberry in "Tish," based on Mary Roberts Rinehart's beloved fiction character, and now playing at the Madison theater. As the domineering spinster of the Rinehart stories, she is teamed with ZaZu Pitts and Aline MacMahon. The three cronies decide to do a little matchmaking, believing that Lee Bowman and Susan Peters ought to fall in love, arrange a camping trip, and go "hunting" and fishing to leave them alone together. Comical as well as dramatic complications arise and are finally straightened out in a hilarious climax. "Wild Cat" with Richard Arlen and Arline Judge is the other number on the double bill.

Submarine Story.

A story of the most fateful 24 hours in history, Dec. 7th at Pearl Harbor, Columbia's "Submarine Raider" continues on the Park theater screen with John Howard and Marguerite Chapman. Lew Landers directed the action drama, whose cast also includes Bruce Bennett, Warren Ashe, Eileen O'Hearn, Roger Clark and Larry Parks. "Westward Ho" with Bob Steele, Tom Tyler and Rufe Davis is the co-feature.

Continues at Ritz.

Medico-mystery pictures, of which "Calling Dr. Gillespie" appearing at the Ritz theater, is the latest, depend on research into medical discoveries and developments as well as customs of the medical fraternity. Each is based on a medical problem. As a result, newspapers and medical journals are watched for any new discoveries or unusual medical cases to be examined with a view of incorporating into a story. Co-feature at the Ritz is "Riders of the West."

Proves Thriller.

Belching cannon, the shriek of dive planes, the roar of anti-aircraft and the staccato hammering of machine guns, the symphony of battle accompanying the deeds of our heroic American fighting marines, thunder out from the screen of the Ohio theater in the film "Wake Island." Paramount has taken the epic story of the fourteen-day siege of our Pacific outpost, one of the most inspiring stands of this war, and made a screen drama of it, from the view point of the men who fought the battle. Four hundred and forty-six marines fought an invading force of more than 20 times their number.

Tygers End Grid Season Tonight Against Woodward

Sport Podge by Rex Hess

Make-up of Mansfield high school's football schedule for next fall will depend a great deal on how increasing war-time transportation problems are met during the coming basketball season, according to Athletic Director Harry Mehock of the Mansfield schools.

Under ordinary conditions Mansfield would have the same schedule next year that it has had this season, with perhaps one game added.

But these are not ordinary conditions, and Mansfield may even have to suspend several existing contracts until after the war.

The Tygers next year will still have the second half of home-and-home, two-year contracts to fill with Massilion, Canton McKinley, Portsmouth, Niles, Elyria and Toledo Woodward, according to Mehock.

Similar contracts with Springfield and Sandusky were completed this season, but both schools have asked for a renewal of the two-year agreements.

Whether conditions would make the long trips on that schedule possible is one question. Whether the government will even permit such trips is another. No one knows the answers.

Mehock has discussed the idea of a Mansfield-Ashland game in 1943 with Ashland officials, and Ashland is considering the proposition.

Marion also has asked for a place on the 1943 program of the Tygers.

Inclusion of these two short games and elimination of two long trips might go a long way toward solving the Tyger transportation in 1943. Both Ashland and Marion could have given Mansfield a good gridiron argument this season, probably as good as half the teams on the Tyger card.

Ashland may have to turn down a game with Mansfield. Bill McKee points out in the Ashland Times-Gazette that Mansfield and Ashland severed football relations on friendly terms, that Ashland felt year in and year out Mansfield would be too big for Ashland. But there's nothing to prevent scheduling a game now and then.

But McKee also says that Ashland's schedule is already well set up for next year within a small area, with the longest trip for Ashland being the 40-mile jaunt to Mt. Vernon. Ashland wouldn't be saving mileage or tires by booking Mansfield.

Three Teams Lined Up for Cage Loop

Three teams were definitely lined up for a City "A" basketball league at a meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. building, and if a fourth can be obtained the league will start early in December, Physical Director John Fike announced today.

The teams now in the league are Westinghouse, Yuncker Sports, and Mansfield Athletic Supply. Efforts are being made to get Blue Goose in the fold.

Chips Are Down in Game With Illini Tomorrow.

By JOHN H. COLBURN

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Records and other statistical paraphernalia of the "form" players went out the window today as Ohio State and Illinois came here for their Western conference title-bearing football game in Cleveland's lakefront stadium tomorrow.

The chips will be down for a loss would topple one of the teams from the top conference rung they now share with Iowa. So you can forget the records which show Ohio hasn't lost to Illinois since 1934 and holds a 16 to 12 edge in games won—with two tied—in 30 years of Ohio-Illinois gridiron rivalry.

Offensively and defensively, the statistics of this year's play give the Bucks an edge but this is a new football era for the Illini and statistics don't count. They didn't against Minnesota and Northwestern when ball-stealing won for the alert Illini.

These two elevens are famous for staging hair-raising games and this may be no exception for the 60,000 or more fans who'll brave the breezes of Lake Erie to see the tilt which was shifted from Champaign, Ill.

Ohio and Illinois were scheduled for brief workouts this afternoon in the stadium to "warm-up" after their train rides here.

Closing their heavy workouts at Columbus yesterday, the Bucks eased up on passing practice and devoted most of a fast, snappy session to formulating defenses to stop the Illini's swift attack.

For the first time this season, Ohio will run up against an opposing line that can match the Bucks in speed—and speed, if the footing is dry, is expected to play a big part in the game's outcome.

Illinois' ace passer, Halfback Dick Good, is suffering from knee injuries and may be unable to play.

Ohio may start the same lineup that it did against Pitt with the possible exception of Don McCafferty of Cleveland replacing William Willis, Columbus sophomore, at left tackle. Willis was on the bench with a lame leg last week.

Illinois has lost only two games, to Notre Dame 21 to 14 and Michigan 28 to 14. It beat South Dakota 46 to 0, Butler 67 to 0, Minnesota 20 to 14, Iowa 12 to 7, and Northwestern 14 to 7.

Ohio was upset by Wisconsin 17 to 7, in a game which knocked the Bucks from the national leadership, and won from Fort Knox 59 to 0, Indiana 32 to 21, Southern California 28 to 12, Purdue 26 to 0, Northwestern 20 to 6 and Pittsburgh 59 to 19.

Strings Along With Buckeyes

Guesser Also Picks Irish Over Michigan.

By HERB BARKER

Michigan-Notre Dame: You can tie yourself into a fine knot if you try to come up with the winner of this one by looking over their records and draw the appropriate comparisons. The coin says . . . Notre Dame.

Ohio State-Illinois: Very close. However, this guesser strings along with Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Northwestern: The Badgers should have recovered from their shocking upset by Iowa and rate the nod.

Texas-Texas Christian: The Horned Frogs seem to have run into a slump. Texas.

Baylor-Tulsa: Tulsa.

Missouri-Oklahoma: This should be the spot for the Tigers to clinch the Big Six crown again. Missouri.

Yale-Princeton: Both in-and-outers. Out of the hat . . . Princeton.

Oregon - Southern California: Southern California.

Columbia-Navy: Governali will test Navy's aerial defenses to the limit but the vote must go to the Midshipmen.

Dartmouth-Cornell: Cornell.

Brown-Harvard: Sheer guessing. Brown.

Colgate - Syracuse: Ditto. Syracuse.

Duquesne-Mississippi State: Looks like Duquesne simply hasn't got it this season. Mississippi State.

Holy Cross-Temple: Holy Cross, stubbornly.

Nebraska-Pitt: May be the spot for Pitt to get back on the track. Pitt.

Penn State-Penn: Usually close. Penn.

Auburn-Louisiana State: Not easy. L. S. U.

Duke-North Carolina: Stringing along with Duke.

Iowa - Minnesota: Doubtfully. Minnesota.

Kansas State-Indiana: No contest. Indiana.

Mississippi-Tennessee: Tennessee.

Oregon State-Stanford: Taking Stanford.

Purdue-Michigan State: Eenie, meenie . . . Michigan State.

Texas A. & M.-Rice: Even-Stephen. The Aggies.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist: Should be S. M. U.

West Virginia-Kentucky: West Virginia.

Keck Collects Total of 679

Johnny Villella Rolls High B-League Game.

Commercial "B" league keglers were banging the maples around like country cousins at Colony alleys last night, paced by Joe Keck's sparking 679 series on a string of 246-220-213. It was one of the best scores turned in this season on the Third street lanes in any league.

Frank Burtton came through with a 608 total, while Johnny Villella had high game of 255.

Kent Rummel had to turn in a 3-0 win over Yuncker Sports to retain its one game margin over Mehl's Canfield station, who shut out Uhlich's bakers.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Did you know that there's a football team representing one of the "major" eastern colleges that is undefeated so far and hasn't had a nickel's worth of publicity about it? . . . The team is Princeton's 150-pound outfit, which may come through to another title if it can knock off Penn today. . . . The lightweights get only four games this year, since Yale and Lafayette suspended operations in the eastern 150-pound league.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Jack Clowser, Cleveland News: "The inventive genius of the modern scientist is likely to figure the answers to anything. They know how to knock out Stukas, put the kibosh on pneumonia in a few days and operate planes with no human beings in them. It will only be another decade or two before they learn how to stop Don Hutson."

SHORTS AND SHELLS.

Although the Sun Bowl game has been called off, El Paso fans like their post-season football so much that they've invited the second air force team from Fort George Wright, Wash., to play there Dec. 12, probably against Hardin-Simmons. . . . The Mineralites bowling team of Chicago needed only an hour and 45 minutes to roll a 3234 score recently, which should be a lesson to athletes who claim you have to "take your time" to be good.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGH JINKS.

Here are some of the kids that high school grid fans think are the season's champs (no college scouts are allowed to beat the starting gun): Bob Lucas of Paulding, O., high has scored 272 points and gained 1,714 yards from scrimmage in seven games. . . . Juke Honn of Anamosa, Ia., completed 77 of the first 84 passes he threw this season for 1,434 yards. . . . And Bob "General" Lee of New Castle, Pa., has gained 1,145 yards by rushing in 130 tries, completed 21 of 45 passes, scored 15 touchdowns and, as safety man, hasn't let an opponent get past him to score. . . . Oh yes, he does the punting and calls the signals.

Eleven Seniors Don Uniform Last Time

Mansfield Given Chance To Win Fourth Victory On Dads' Night

HOPING to partly balance the budget for the 1942 season, Mansfield high school Tygers ring down the curtain tonight at Stadium field against Toledo Woodward's Bears, seeking their fourth victory against five defeats.

Backfield Coach Vern Hoffman and Athletic Director Harry Mehock who will have charge of the Tygers tonight, have both scouted Woodward and both believe that Mansfield has a chance to win.

But both report that the Tygers will have to play heads-up ball on both offense and defense. Woodward uses more offensive formations than any team the Tygers have played this year, and they follow anything but an orthodox style of play. Particularly dangerous is their passing with Varwig floating long passes to Santus, and with Santus heaving left-handed tosses.

While Woodward hasn't a very impressive record, it has been beaten badly only once this season, by Defiance 35 to 0, and Defiance is reported to have the best team in its history.

Coach Paul Snyder had hopes of returning to the team for tonight's game, but he was ordered back to bed once this week by his physician, and the cold weather made it unlikely that he would be on hand for the kickoff. He has been ill for two weeks with influenza.

It will be Dad's night at Stadium field, with fathers of the Tygers sitting on the bench and wearing numbers corresponding to those worn by their sons.

Eleven Mansfield seniors will be donning Tyger grid togs for the last time. They are: Dick Butterfield, Bill Boyce, Jim Burrage, Dick Calhoun, Art Goettl, Gene Hetler, Bill Hallabrin, Frank Rachel, Jerry Snyder, Bill Snowden and Bill Smith.

Probable starting lineups:

Mansfield	Pos.	Woodward
Burrage	LE	Knierim
Snyder	LT	Paradysz
Goettle	LG	Norman
Snowden	C	Wisnewski
Hetler	RG	Puls
Guy	RT	Piasecki
Lewis	RE	Bucher
Rachel	QB	Sloan
Schmidt	LH	Varwig
Boyce	RH	Santus
Zivkoff	FB	Ustaszewski

Comedy Film.

Marjorie Main, who has heckled Wallace Berry comically in recent pictures, comes into her own in a role that might have been specially written for her, as the redoubtable Letitia Carberry in "Tish," based on Mary Roberts Rinehart's beloved fiction character, and now playing at the Madison theater. As the domineering spinster of the Rinehart stories, she is teamed with ZaZu Pitts and Aline MacMahon. The three cronies decide to do a little matchmaking, believing that Lee Bowman and Susan Peters ought to fall in love, arrange a camping trip, and go "hunting" and fishing to leave them alone together. Comical as well as dramatic complications arise and are finally straightened out in a hilarious climax. "Wild Cat" with Richard Arlen and Arline Judge is the other number on the double bill.

A story of the most fateful 24 hours in history, Dec. 7th at Pearl Harbor, Columbia's "Submarine Raider" continues on the Park theater screen with John Howard and Marguerite Chapman. Lew Landers directed the action drama, whose cast also includes Bruce Bennett, Warren Ashe, Eileen O'Hearn, Roger Clark and Larry Parks. "Westward Ho" with Bob Steele, Tom Tyler and Rufe Davis is the co-feature.

Medico-mystery pictures, of which "Calling Dr. Gillespie" appearing at the Ritz theater, is the latest, depend on research into medical discoveries and developments as well as customs of the medical fraternity. Each is based on a medical problem. As a result, newspapers and medical journals are watched for any new discoveries or unusual medical cases to be examined with a view of incorporating into a story. Co-feature at the Ritz is "Riders of the West."

Proves Thriller.

Belching cannon, the shriek of diving planes, the roar of anti-aircraft and the staccato hammering of machine guns, the symphony of battle accompanying the deeds of our heroic American fighting marines, thunder out from the screen of the Ohio theater in the film "Wake Island." Paramount has taken the epic story of the fourteen-day siege of our Pacific outpost, one of the most inspiring stands of this war, and made a screen drama of it, from the view point of the men who fought the battle. Four hundred and forty-six marines fought an invading force of more than 20 times their number.

Grenade was taken from the French word for pomengranate, because of a resemblance in shape to the fruit.

ANTIQUE JOINS SCRAP

BLUFFTON, O. —(U.P.)— Contributions to the scrap metal campaign include Harry Anderson's 90-year-old stove. He dug up the old family heirloom that had kept his grandfather warm from a building where it had been stored in 1890. The stove has no grate—but has a front hearth where the fire is built.

TRAP 26TH BEAR

TOLEDO, Ore. — (U.P.) — The Kenneth Speakman dairy ranch here should be getting a bad name among the bruin tribe. The big cinnamon bear trapped there after killing 50 goats was the 26th bear taken on the ranch by government hunters since 1932.

NOW, THEN, LET'S HEAR WHY YOU'VE BEEN TRYING TO RUIN ALL THESE FARMERS!
BECAUSE I HATE 'EM! I'D RUIN EVERY-ONE, IF I COULD!
BUT WHY? WHAT DID THEY EVER DO TO YOU?
PLENTY! BACK IN THE CITY, GARDEN-ING WAS MY HOBBY! MY VEGETABLES WERE PRIZE-WINNERS EVERY TIME!
SO I CAME OUT IN THE COUNTRY TO GROW 'EM ON A LARGER SCALE! AND WHAT HAPPENED...?
...AT THE VERY FIRST COUNTY FAIR ONE OF THESE COUNTRY YAPS WALKED OFF WITH THE PRIZE! I HATE FARMERS!

UNEVEN TRENDS CONTINUED ON STOCK MARKET

Retail Spending Throughout Nation Continues Over Last Year's Marks.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Uneven trends continued in today's early stock market proceedings.

Early gainers of fractions included Standard Oil (NJ), Chesapeake & Ohio, American Water Works, Baltimore & Ohio and General Motors. Among losers were Western Union, Anaconda and U. S. Steel.

Merchandising shares came in for scrutiny as Dun & Bradstreet estimated this week's retail spending for the country as a whole topped the comparable period a year ago by 12 to 17 per cent.

Oil company securities had to contend with the recommendation of Petroleum Coordinator Ickes that civilian use of petroleum products along the eastern seaboard be cut at least 12 per cent. The proposal also contemplated the reduction of 20 to 25 per cent in gasoline consumption.

DIES AT AGE 82

James W. Cross, Invalid Eight Years, Succumbs.

ASHLAND — Jesse Willard Cross, 82, resident of Ashland most of his life, died of a heart attack at 9:10 p. m. Thursday at his home on the Perrysville road. He had been an invalid for eight years.

Although born in Richland county, Mr. Cross moved to Ashland county when he was a boy. He was a retired farmer and a member of the Synagogue Church of God, south of Hayesville.

The body will be at the residence tonight and brief service will be conducted there at 1:30 p. m. Sunday. There will be services at 2:30 p. m. at Stone's Lutheran church on the Perrysville road. Rev. Carl Coad, pastor of Stone's church, will be in charge. Burial will be in the Hayesville cemetery.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. W. C. Sample, Ashland, R. D. 4; Mrs. Cleo Fast and Mrs. P. E. Shenberger, both of Ashland; four sons, Ray W. of Waterloo, Ia.; John and Paul of Ashland, and Joseph of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; four sisters, Mrs. Nora McCarty, Mrs. Lilly Greenlun, and Mrs. Lydia Scott, all of Ashland, and Mrs. Arizona Fridline of near Howsburg, and one brother, Roy Cross of Ashland.

VOICES FAITH IN U. S. ACTION

Argentine Sends Word of 'Solidarity' to Secretary Hull.

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Argentina is watching "with solidarity and interest" the steps which the United States is taking to safeguard the security of the Americas, Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu advised Secretary of State Hull last night.

The foreign minister's message, which voiced faith in the "high continental ideals" of the United States, was the first official expression of sentiment by the Argentine government since the landing of American troops in French North Africa.

Argentina and Chile are the only American nations that have not broken relations with the Axis.

BLANKS READY

Landlord Registration Forms Being Distributed.

Landlord registration blanks for northern Richland county will be available at Shelby, Plymouth and Shiloh, according to an announcement today by Le Roy B. Hamilton, area rent director under the government rent control division.

Blanks were placed yesterday at the Shelby fire station and the Shelby Credit bureau office, 48 East Main street. In Plymouth registration papers can be obtained at the People's bank and in Shiloh at the Shiloh Savings bank.

Crawford county sites will be determined by Monday, Director Hamilton said. "The area office," Hamilton declared, "is sincerely striving to place these blanks at the nearest available points in order to help the landlord conserve gasoline and rubber."

CITY OFFICIALS ENLIST

RENSSELAER, N. Y. — (U.P.) — The mayor himself started it and Rensselaer voters are wondering where it's going to end. Two days after Mayor Charles G. Maloy announced he had volunteered for Army induction with an October contingent, the city treasurer, Albert J. Scheibly, told his draft board chairman that he, too, was a volunteer for induction in October.

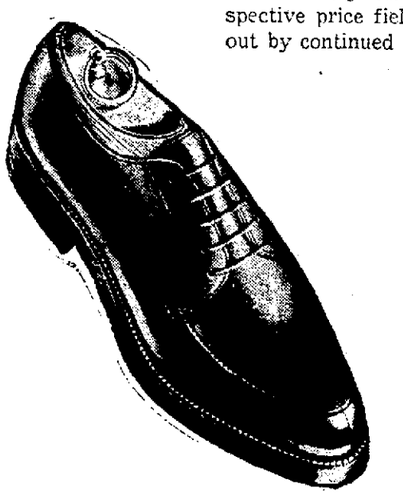
GOOD SHOES SINCE 1912
We Can't Sell Them ALL— So We're Selling the BEST!

There's a lot of good shoes being made in this country and no store can sell them all. We realized this forty-two years ago when we first started in the retail business selling good shoes. But, we did know that of all the good shoes, our store was going to sell the best—the cream of the crop.

And today—the reason we're still selling Nettletons, Bostonians, Wright Arch Preservers and Roblees, is that we believe they are the very best shoes made in their respective price fields . . . a conviction borne out by continued customer satisfaction.



So—if you're in the habit of spending anywhere from six dollars on up for your shoes, we honestly believe that we can, for the same money, give you a definite edge in value.

Tobruk, Bardia Fall As Allies Push West

help trap Rommel's armies fleeing from Egypt.

Tunisia, the key to the whole struggle for the western Mediterranean, lies between Algeria and Italian Libya.

Once in Allied hands, it could serve as a jumping-off point for an invasion of the Italian islands of Sicily and Sardinia, Italian-occupied (French) Corsica or even the French mainland.

British headquarters said heavy RAF attacks were delivered on lines of vehicles moving along the coastal highway from Tobruk to Gazala, 30 miles farther west.

Other RAF planes hammered at remnants of Rommel's retreating Africa corps near Tobruk itself, the British announced.

Capture of Bardia meant that Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's British Eighth army had advanced approximately 236 miles from the old El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria, the springboard for the great British offensive which began Oct. 23.

Meanwhile, Adolf Hitler was moving with desperate urgency to guard the "under side" of Europe from threatened Allied invasion.

Dispatches from Istanbul, Turkey, said the Germans were speedily reoccupying the Greek coast, heavily reinforcing the skeleton garrisons which have guarded those shores for months.

These reports said Nazi troops from the Russian front were pouring into southeast Europe and that 12 Nazi divisions passed through Rumania alone last week, heading toward Greek and Yugoslav points.

Other German legions were spreading along the French Mediterranean coast and along the French-Spanish frontier.

There was still no news on the exact whereabouts of the French fleet based at Toulon, France, although the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio insisted it was still in harbor and in French hands.

Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of all Vichy's armed forces before he was captured by American troops last Sunday night at Algiers, joined Allied leaders in urging the French fleet to escape to Gibraltar.

At the same time the Vichy radio acknowledged that Gen. Auguste Nogues, former commissioner general of Allied-occupied French Morocco, had joined Admiral Darlan in Allied councils.

A Vichy broadcast also reported that United States warplanes had attacked Tunis, capital of the old-time pirate stronghold of Tunisia, which was under air-raid alarm for two hours and 15 minutes last night.

A spokesman at Allied headquarters in London said there was no definite information that the destruction of six north-bound Axis transport planes from Tunisia meant a precipitous withdrawal of Axis forces from North Africa.

"I hope it does mean that," he added.

Dispatches from Cairo indicated that Marshal Rommel burned stores and fled without even putting up a fight for Tobruk, the powerful Libyan fortress where a British garrison held out under tempestuous siege for eight months in 1941.

Rommel's chaotic rout was further emphasized by British reports that New Zealand infantry had stormed and captured Halfaya Pass on the Libyan frontier after a five-minute fight on Armistice day.

All signs pointed to a disaster of the first magnitude, with the likelihood that the Axis would attempt to stage "a second Dunkerque" by withdrawing from Tripolitania and the entire North African theater.

Hurl New Blows At Stalingrad

MOSCOW—(AP)—Repeated German attacks, which Red Star characterized as the beginning of a new Nazi offensive, were hurled at the defenders of Stalingrad yesterday but the Russians were declared today that all the assaults had been repelled with heavy Nazi losses.

The Red army organ said the Germans had thrown overwhelmingly superior forces into the battle and the midday communique of the Soviet information bureau described the fighting as fierce.

Northwest of the Volga river city, Russian troops repulsed an enemy attack and wiped out 150 Nazis, the bulletin added.

The government organ Izvestia reported meanwhile that Russian aviators of the Black Sea fleet had made a damaging surprise raid with parachutists on a German airdrome near Maikop in the Caucasus.

Following a heavy aerial bombardment, Izvestia said, the parachutists — armed with special equipment—were dropped on the field, where they set fire to 13 planes and damaged 10 more. They also were reported to have burned a railway station.

The Russians reported their artillery had prevented the Germans from effecting a river crossing northeast of Tuapse, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

Nazis Claim Seven Allied Ships Sunk

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts)—(AP)—The German high command reported today the sinking of a British cruiser, a destroyer and five transports and damage to 18 other Allied ships by Axis U-boat and plane attacks off North Africa.

(There was no Allied confirmation on these enemy claims.)

The war bulletin said the cruiser, of the 9,100-ton Birmingham class, was sent down by five torpedo hits yesterday off the Moroccan coast.

It said the destroyed and three transports totaling 22,000 tons were sunk by submarines in the same waters.

Report Axis Ships Fleeing Bengasi

LONDON — (AP) — Reuters said today it had recorded a broadcast by the Rabat radio reporting that "Axis ships have left Bengasi, probably after evacuating the port."

(Rabat is now in American hands; it is not known definitely who operates the radio station there.)

Italians Claim Allied Ships Hit

ROME—(From Italian Broadcasts) — (AP) — The Italian high command reported today that Fascist planes and submarines had sunk three Allied merchant ships and damaged eight other vessels, including a British cruiser and a destroyer, in waters of French North Africa.

The Italians reported that German planes in addition had sunk a 10,000-ton transport and damaged two cruisers, three destroyers and merchant ships off Algeria.

(There was no Allied confirmation of these claims.)

Reveals Army Landed Bridges In Africa

NEW YORK —(AP)— The army's landing in North Africa was so thoroughly equipped that even bridges and railroad locomotives were put ashore, Robert P. Patterson, under secretary of war, said last night at a dinner meeting of the Crowell-Collier Publishing company.

"The expedition was one of the largest, if not the largest operation, of its kind in the world's history," Patterson said, adding that 700,000 different items of equipment and supply were landed with it on the North African shore.

Patterson said that "we have not yet won a decisive victory . . . in the Mediterranean area, and it would be a mistake to suppose that the road from now on will be easy."

"We know that Hitler and his Italian satellite will react as violently as they have the means to, and their means are not spent by a long shot," he added.

Smuts Sees Possible War End During 1944

LONDON (AP) The smashing Allied cleanup in North Africa already has brought needed relief to Russia, Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, said in a press conference today, adding that there now was a possibility of ending the war in 1944.

He said "very wonderful changes, the greatest of the last three years, much more spectacular than I expected," have taken place since the beginning of the double-barrelled British and American offensive in North Africa.

"There has been a vast change in our favor," he declared.

The 72-year-old veteran South African soldier said he expected that 1943 would be "the great offensive year" for the Allies, and that if the Allied offensives could be pressed, the war might end in 1944.

"The death blows may yet be started from China," he said. "China is going to play a great part in this war, as far as the Orient is concerned."

Spain Veers Toward Strict Neutrality

NEW YORK — (AP) — Spanish foreign policy, hitched to a program of pro-Axis non-belligerency when Adolf Hitler was winning victory after victory, has veered suddenly toward strict neutrality as a result of the startling developments of the past week, advices from reliable European sources said today.

Faced with the sudden rise of Allied power in the Mediterranean, Generalissimo Francisco Franco apparently has experienced an overnight change of heart and is trying desperately to hold his nation to a middle-of-the-road course, declared these sources whose identity cannot be disclosed.

On the north, the Spaniards now have nothing between them and the Nazis except a thin chain of mountains.

On the south lies Gibraltar and, just beyond, the powerful American and British forces which have seized control of French North Africa.

To complicate the situation, Spain's Balearic islands off the east coast of the Iberian peninsula have suddenly assumed a position of vast strategic importance to the belligerents.

BANS DELIVERY

WPB Orders Restrictions on Non-Residence Gas.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Delivery of gas for non-residential equipment installed after Nov. 30 has been banned by the war production board, except on specific approval in individual cases.

The order was prompted, WPB said, by possibilities that a gas shortage might develop in many sections this winter.

REPORTS DAMAGE

Minister Says 2,750,000 British Dwellings Hit by Bombs.

LONDON — (AP) — More than 2,750,000 dwellings in England and Wales have been damaged by Axis bombs since the beginning of the war, Health Minister Ernest Brown reported today.

The secret of silk culture is said to have been smuggled out of China in 550 A. D. by two monks who concealed silkworm eggs in hollow staves.

were seven planes, the highest ratio to date.

The destruction of 17 planes on Armistice day raised to at least 561 the total of Japanese planes destroyed in the Solomons since Aug. 7.

The navy made no mention of any ground action in its latest communique but in one issued Wednesday it told of continued drives against Japanese positions both east and west of the airfield on Guadalcanal.

In a separate communique, the navy revealed that American submarines, which have taken a high toll of Japanese ships, are busy along Japan's sea supply routes. Recent operations resulted in the sinking of seven enemy ships—a large transport, a large tanker, a large cargo ship, a medium-sized auxiliary, a small cargo carrier and a small patrol vessel. In addition, a destroyer was damaged and believed sunk.

The latest sinkings by American submarines raises to 472 the number of Japanese ships hit during the Pacific war—220 ships sunk, 54 probably sunk and 198 damaged.

Submarines have accounted for about one-third of the ships hit and nearly one-half of those sunk. They have sunk 93 ships, probably sunk 21 and damaged 27 for a total of 141.

Increases Pressure For Single Command

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Melvin J. Maas, (R., Minn.) today increased his pressure for a unified command after reiterating charges that America is losing the war in the Pacific and Washington has misled the people in issuing war news.

Reports were current in Washington that the navy had asked Maas, who recently returned from active duty as a marine corps colonel, to cancel the radio speech or tone it down. The radio sation offered to give the navy 15 minutes of air time for any rebuttals following Maas' speech, but the offer was turned down.

The Minnesotan's remarks were mostly a repetition of his address at Richmond, Va., Wednesday night. He charged the U. S. has been losing the war "every day since Pearl Harbor," and that American defeats and disasters have been twisted into being announced as victories.

"One naval battle," Maas said, "was and still is publicly acclaimed as a great American victory, when, in fact, our losses were greater and far more serious than those of the Japs.

"Unjustified optimistis releases created the impression that all was proceeding well in our war with Japan. Our naval losses were played down and concealed from the public long after Japan knew all about them. Many military operations in the Pacific in recent months have been well known to every one except the American public."

President Silent On Maas Charges

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Roosevelt, at his press conference, today refused to de drawn into a discussion of charges made by Rep. Melvin J. Maas (R., Minn.) that America is losing the war in the Pacific while official Washington is misleading the people in issuing war news.

The president said that he had not heard Maas' speech in which the representative, also a marine corps colonel who just returned from active duty in the Pacific, made the charges. Nor had he received any reports about it, the president said.

Maas, in making the allegations, urged a unified command in the Pacific.

State Defense Council To Offer Housewives Book Of Menus.

The state defense council can't assure you more meat when rationing comes, but one of its representatives will knock at your door soon with the next best thing—a book of meat-saving menus and suggestions for getting your family to cooperate.

State Defense Director Ralph H. Stone announced today that block and neighborhood defense leaders would conduct a house-to-house campaign beginning Nov. 30 to explain the government's "share the meat" program.

way patrolmen foresee fewer highway tragedies as a result of the "victory 35" speed limit signs although a long-established state law still places the legal limit at 50 miles an hour.

In Mansfield speed limits have been reduced throughout the city, many here-to-fore 35-miles zones being embraced into 25-mile sectors. "This zone limitation," Boals said, "authorizes patrolmen to arrest anyone violating the 'victory 35' program designed to conserve tires and gasoline, and is a definite aid in checking accidents."

BOMBER BOUGHT BY OHIO CITY

Dover and New Philadelphia Go Over Top on War Chest.

DOVER—(U.P.)—Merchants today wrote a $262,190 check for the war department to build a light bomber which will be named "City of Dover." Response to the bomber drive far exceeded a goal of $150,000.

As the Dover-New Philadelphia War Chest drive went over the top, leaders of the two communities announced organization of a permanent Twin-City welfare organization.

RESOURCEFUL

Boy, 16, Lost in Woods, Eats Raw Squirrels.

RAWLINS, Wyo.—(U.P.)—If the Commandos are looking for a recruit they may find a possibility in 16-year-old Harold Jackman of Rock River, Wyo.

Young Jackman proved his self-sufficiency during three nights and two days he was lost in the desolate mountain country near Sand Lake in southern Wyoming.

When found by a searching party, the youth revealed that he had been living off squirrels which he killed with a slingshot. He ate them raw.

He explained that he cooked one on a fire he made by striking his pocket knife against flint but that it was too much trouble.

HITS 'JACKPOT'

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—Erie railroad workers on a rubber scrap hunt through yards, shops and round-houses hit a rubber "jackpot" in discarded air hoses. Of the 74,700 pounds of rubber collected, more than 17,000 pounds were air hoses.

Disprove Theory Steel Industry A Man's World

PUEBLO, Colo.—(INS)—Eighteen Pueblo women — described as a "typical cross section of femininity" — have disproved the old theory that a steel works is exclusively a man's world.

A local plant was just about the only industrial concern which had not already been invaded by women workers and it was thought that no woman could possibly take over a job there.

Purely as an experiment the company, in cooperation with the vocational training department of the Pueblo high schools, gave 28 Pueblo women a two-weeks training period with conditions closely simulating exact working conditions.

Ten of the women dropped out before the class had finished but the remaining 18 women came through "with flying colors," according to John E. Drotar and T. R. Glascoe, supervising millwrights in the forge plant, who had charge of instruction of the students.

They said the experiment "forcefully demonstrated that women can qualify for employment at any of the tasks taught the 18 girls in the forge plant."

Rationing Books Present Various Problems to U.S.

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— "My baby just chewed up my sugar ration book. What'll I do now?"

This is only one of the 20,000 questions that Office of Emergency Management telephone operators have to answer per day, and 1,000 of them are puzzlers.

The lady no sooner was referred to her local rationing board when a tailor wailed: "If I don't sew cuffs on the customer's pants, he won't take the suit."

Mary Dolan, chief operator, explained the girls haven't muffed a question yet. "It may take some time," she said, "but we always find an adequate answer."

Complaints by the dozen roll in from women reporting on neighbors who have 100 pounds cached, etc.

One woman complained because no one had called for three pounds of grease she had salvaged, while another was annoyed because Boy Scouts muddied her kitchen floor when they called for waste paper.

Another headache is posed by high school students who call in hopes of having homework problem worked out. President Roosevelt's fireside chats also bring a deluge of calls from listeners who want certain points explained.

Each new bill brings a new type of question. When landlords were required to register, one woman asked if her roomer, who was engaged to her daughter, was still considered a roomer.

"When we can't help, at least we let them blow off steam," Miss Dolan said.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1942.

Hitler is having weather trouble—too cold for him in Russia and too hot in Africa.

Another thing that may as well be deferred for the duration is agitation for calendar revision.

At a late hour this afternoon, next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are still the days to register for an A card under gas rationing—but don't forget to read your newspaper carefully each day.

Draft Extended To Younger Men

ACTION finally taken by congress to call 18- and 19-year-olds into training for military service was an unhurried procedure. It followed long consideration of the subject and gradual increase in public acceptance of the fact that this MUST be done in order to provide sufficient manpower to assure winning the war without unnecessary delay.

Decision to abandon the idea of requiring a year's training before youths in this age group could be assigned to combat duty is considered wise by those who are charged with responsibility for military action, as the average age of service men thus far has been in brackets above the range deemed best for actual fighting forces.

The attitude of American parents, possibly more so than in any other country, has been that young men of 18 and 19 are scarcely more than children, but it is also quite evident that normal healthy boys of those ages consider themselves as grown-ups, quite capable of taking care of themselves, and probably more self confident that they will be a few years later.

Some will like the idea of becoming soldiers—many in that age range have already enlisted—and others may not like it but will accept it as necessary to winning the war.

From the viewpoint of parents, it may be doubted if age plays any great part in determining the extent of anxiety that is felt when one or more sons are in the service, and possibly known to be in some distant part of the world.

Draft of these younger men may go further than anything that has preceded this step to arouse all Americans to the importance of doing everything possible to end the war quickly—so that the sacrifice of lives may be no greater than is absolutely essential to victory.

Let it be understood now that any strike, however small, and anything other than an all out war effort on the part of administrative officials, will no longer be tolerated.

War Chest Speeds Toward Quota

EFFICIENCY, ENERGY, DETERMINATION—these are the three key words in accounting for the marvelous success that marked the opening days of the Mansfield and Richland county Community War Chest campaign.

Couple with capability of leadership and thoroughness of preliminary work, the willingness to give which has been evidenced by thousands of people in this city and county, and you have the elements which make a desirable community in which to live.

A look at the figures, with a goal of almost $85,000 set for the industrial division, discloses the high percentage of participation of industries and industrial workers in filling the War Chest, and this applies with equal force to many other community activities.

Each of the divisions, and its leadership, deserves high commendation for the work performed in its more limited field of prospects and no more is asked than that each of the groups represented come up to the reasonable quota assigned it.

With likelihood that total subscriptions will be somewhat in excess of the $140,377 quota, as has been the case in many other cities, it is gratifying to know that funds will be available not only to finance the work of essential local agencies aided by the Community Chest, but that Mansfield and Richland county will also be prepared to share in providing war relief in many parts of the world, through agencies operating for this purpose.

While enthusiastic workers are sometimes disturbed, during their canvass, by an occasional refusal to contribute, with one shocking instance of the curt reply, "I'm not interested," such occurrences have been surprisingly infrequent this year, and—in the main—workers report that the public attitude has been "wonderful."

"You are near success, but do not lag in your efforts," Major General Fred B. Hout told War Chest Commandos when mid-week reports were made—and there should also be no lag among those who have not yet made their contribution.

Another Ambitious German Dream

WRITERS on geography sometimes speak of Eurasia, meaning thereby that Europe and Asia are really one continent, with no marked boundaries between. Now the talk, in Germany at least, is of Atlantropa, a combination of Europe and Africa seen as a unit, fronting on the Atlantic.

The Germans, or some of them, have made great plans for Atlantropa. The most startling is the building of a dam and great power station at the Straits of Gibraltar, with perhaps a second dam across the Mediterranean between Sicily and Tunis. Across the dam at Gibraltar would run trains from Berlin to Dakar, on the West African coast, the port whose menace is aimed straight at South America.

The North African campaign is sometimes considered a sideshow. Schemes like the above reveal its real importance.

Most People Like To Work

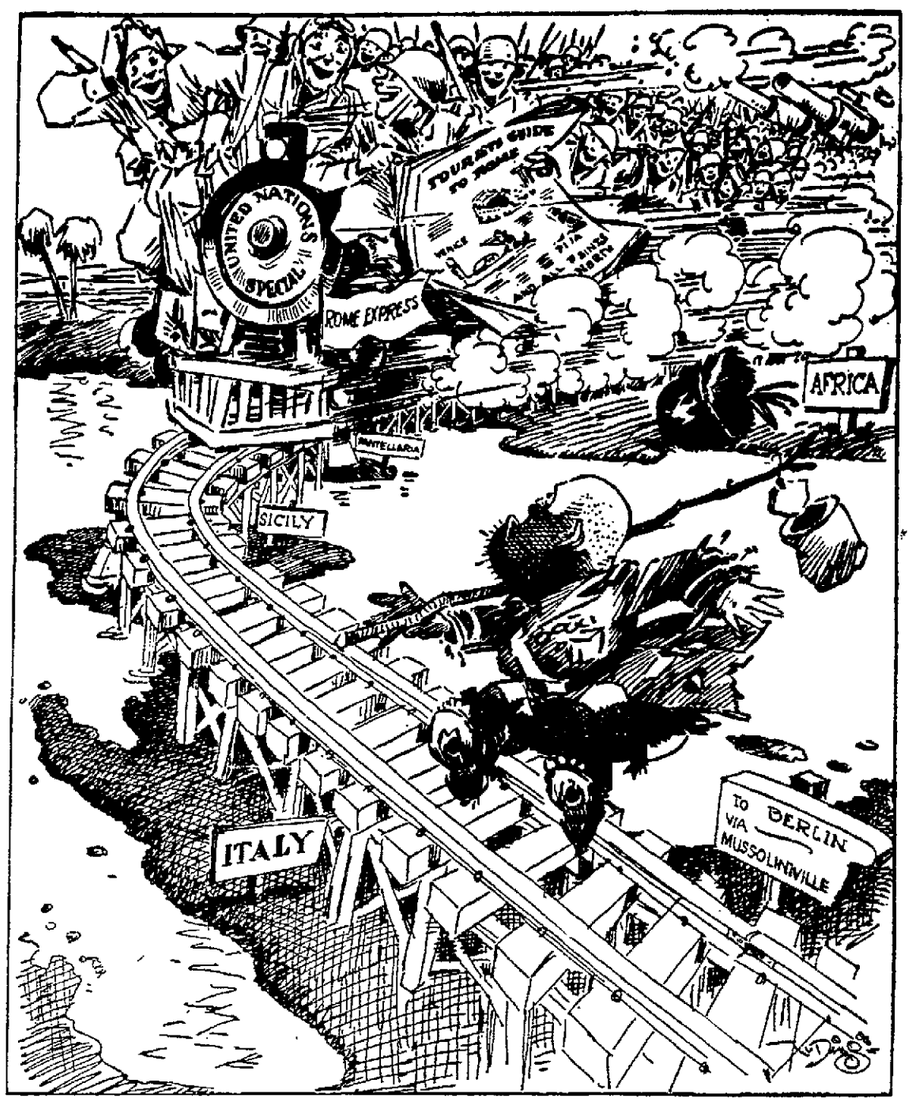
THE AMERICAN SOLDIER wants to work," says Brig. Gen. Ludwig S. Connelly. "He would rather be kept busy than loafing. He likes hard jobs, and I have found that the morale of the men is best when they are fighting or preparing to fight."

This is probably just as true of civilians. Give them a hard problem to tackle or a tough job to do, and they generally go to it with a will that makes them forget their personal troubles and grouches. As a matter of fact, are not most people, of all ages and both sexes, happiest when they're working that way?

Newspaper space has been so much given to war news that such a momentous happening as the Dionne quints getting their first permanent waves almost escaped mention.

The treasury is said to be considering a suggestion that money be made of glass—and that would be a nice tribute to the aging senator.

THE NEW ROAD TO BERLIN.



Act of Dramatic Shipping Magic Seen In North African Conquest

—By JOHN GROVER

IF THE North Africa campaign is a success, as now seems indicated, Lieut. Gen. Dwight (Ike) Eisenhower will go down as a "shipbuilder" whose exploits take precedence over the miracles performed by Henry J. Kaiser.

In one swoop, Gen. Eisenhower will have virtually doubled the size of the whole Allied merchant marine. The importance of this dramatic easing of the critical shipbuilding problem to all fronts cannot be overestimated.

Shipping has been the really desperate focal point of our whole war effort, by official admission. The terrific distances involved in moving supplies to the southwest Pacific, to the India-Burma theater and to the Middle East have had the war planners gray-headed with worry. Despite magnificent achievements by U. S. shipbuilders, the need for cargo space has always been ahead of available bottoms.

The American landings in north Africa, if expanded to actual control of the south shore of the Mediterranean, mean a whole fleet of "new" vessels created overnight for the further garrisoning and supplying of all world fronts.

CLOSING of the Mediterranean as a regular military supply route vastly complicated the problem of Allied munitions and troop transport. It required from five to seven times as many ships to carry the same quantity of goods and men around Africa to the Middle East as over the route through the Mediterranean.

It is something over 13,000 miles from England around the Cape of Good Hope to Suez. It is somewhat more than 2,000 miles from England to north Africa. The distance from the U. S. east coast to Suez is 14,000-plus miles, but from the U. S. to Casablanca is 3,200 miles.

Control of the south shore of the middle sea would permit use of it again as a supply lane. With Allied air bases scattered along that shore, the convoys could proceed under a canopy of planes with less risk than Russian-bound convoys to Murmansk now run.

In addition to a saving of an expert-estimated 75 per cent in the number of ships needed to service the Allied troop-munitions pool in the Middle East, the requirements of the England-India run would be cut one-third.

WHAT this means to the furtherance of Allied offensives is obvious. Scores on scores of freighters would be released for supplementing the present service of supply to Australia, to Russia and to Alaska, all three of which have suffered by reason of ship shortages which did not permit the movement of arms already fashioned and waiting at dockside for transport.

There is evidence that the surprise offensive had this relief of overworked Allied shipping as its primary purpose. The strategic import of the campaign, in its relation to future offensives directed at the Axis southern exposure, cannot be minimized. The immediate advantages in shipping, however, will be the first great gain if Gen. Eisenhower completes his mission.

Art of Relaxation

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

EVERYONE'S so busy. Bustling with patriotic duties. Chockfull of important information. Which, let me hastily add, is undoubtedly admirable. But sometimes, in spite of all the hip, hip-hurrah, this feverish activity—particularly the female variety—sets me wondering. Are we perhaps sacrificing something which is quite as essential to healthy, happy living as courses in nutrition or First Aid bandages?

F'instance, I drop in for tea with Harriet, Constance, Ethel, Dorothy and May. Tea-time at Harriet's used to be a delightful affair. I looked forward to it. I'd like to look forward to it now. Chances are I've been juggling dirty dishes, digging potatoes, counting laundry and riding herd on the pup since dawn. Not to mention dashing off a few articles and reading 239 epistles from Mr. John Q. Public. My back aches. My fingernails are in splinters. And I have a gnawing hunger for a little rest and frivolity to offset this grim business which we call The Democratic Way of Life.

But do I get it?

Yes, I do N-O-T.

Before I've eased the old chassis from its fallen arches the rumpus is on. Five pairs of knitting needles are twirling like dentists' drills. Five militant voices are broadcasting the relative merits of soy beans, Republican senators, public nurseries, victory gardens, blood plasma, war insurance and thyroid tablets. Each throat is likewise giving tongue to the particular excellence of its personal Project or Schedule, Committee or Conference. The air sizzles, the walls buckle with percussion. No German blitzkrieg ever had anything on this.

At some other time I might feel a keen enthusiasm for any or all of these subjects. But at this moment I am tired. I have done my bit for my country. I do not want to save the world or kill a Senator. And I do not give a daggoned hoot for all the soy beans that ever were planted. But I'll take them—and like them. Or else. For this is war, Mrs. Voter—this is war!

Yes, this is war. And I'm as keen on helping to win this war as any other loyal citizen. But somewhere, way down inside me, a teeny-weeny doubt begins to needle me. War's war. And we'll have to see it through 'til the whole beastly business is finished. But do we necessarily have to live with its horrors 24 hours of every day?

Even if we haven't licked Hitler or Hirohito yet, couldn't we still enjoy just a little of our old-time peace and laughter and gracious relaxation now and then?

Surely, if ever we needed that relaxation, we need it now. Need it not only for ourselves, but to pass along to restless, frightened youngsters, to tired workers grown sick of speed and pressure. It's a great thing to be able to bandage a busted thumb but I'm thinking it's just as necessary to be able to quiet a bruised spirit. To sit with folded hands, letting the tension ease . . . to listen to the lisp and chuckle of the fire . . . the laughter of the children down the street . . . to watch the evening star. These, too, hold back the hell and guard the peace.

Interpreting the War News

Offensive Passes To the Allies, Nazis Lose Long-Held Advantage

—By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

THE MILITARY and political situation of the United Nations in Europe has undergone such a profound change in one week that there is good reason to think the turning point of the war has come.

That isn't to say there is not a long, hard fight ahead. Nevertheless, our course is clear now. Hitler has lost the offensive everywhere—in Russia, Africa and western Europe. Allied reverses in the past three years of war have been suffered because the Axis was always on the offensive, striking at all points with power which the United Nations could not match.

Now the stage of defensive action has passed. Whatever may lie ahead, and whatever temporary setbacks the Allies may have, it is doubtful if Hitler will ever be able to regain the full initiative except temporarily on some single front.

Predictions in such a war as this are foolhardy but there is good reason for optimism about the situation in the Mediterranean. Libya and Tunisia remain to be cleaned up and it may take a stiff fight, but by all the signs, the Allies are much superior in land, sea and air power.

It is hard to see how Hitler can get enough reinforcements to Africa in time to halt what has become a British-American steam roller. The British First army in northern Africa is reported by London to number about 150,000 men, splendidly equipped. The Eighth army in Egypt may be as many as 100,000, counting reserves.

AMERICANS were reported by Axis sources to have landed 140,000 from the great armada which reached Africa last Sunday, although this figure may include some British. In any event, Hitler cannot hope to match this strength. The defeated Marshal Erwin Rommel has only about 25,000 men in Libya, and there probably are not many more than that in Tripoli.

Hitler can land troops by transport planes in Tunisia, where he is expected to put up a tough fight, but it would take a seaborne expedition to bring enough men, artillery and tanks to match the Allies.

To run such a convoy through the Allies cordon of ships and airplanes is a task seemingly beyond his power.

PRIME MINISTER Winston Churchill has implicitly stated that the African drive is designed to regain control of the Mediterranean, with suggestion that invasion of Italy is the next step.

At the same time, Churchill promised an invasion of western Europe from across the channel as soon as preparations have been completed. This double threat puts Hitler at a terrific disadvantage.

Meanwhile from Russia comes a dispatch saying that the Germans are stalled at Stalingrad for the winter and are bogged down in the Caucasus.

Too Many Jobs Spoil the Broth

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — While it is very difficult to prove any specific point by an election, as there are always so many factors to complicate the proof, there is little doubt that the West Virginia surprise was due to Senator Matthew M. Neely being a bit careless about an old political maxim. This is to the effect that a candidate must never let the voters suspect that he wants more than his share.

It is generally put in saltier language, but that is the general purport.

For some reason not unconnected with human nature, there is generally resentment when a man wants too many jobs, which increases in geometrical ratio when the candidate seems to want too many jobs at one time. It is a rule, however, which many have been lulled into disregarding, because it works on an unpredictable time table.

It seldom flares up immediately at the first provocation. It always seems to work on a time fuse, with no one knowing how long the fuse will burn.

Some years back Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, held three posts within a few months. It was six years later before the voters retired him to private life, but there is no doubt whatever among Nutmeg politicians that this was one of the causes of his ultimate defeat.

So with Senator Neely. Some time back, after two periods of service in the senate, a political situation arose in West Virginia which seemed to threaten his domination of the Democratic organization. It appeared that nothing Neely could do would prevent the governorship passing into the hands of one of his political enemies, who would thereupon be able to exercise considerable control of the state Democratic organization.

After careful consideration Neely decided to run for governor himself in order to head off this dreadful possibility. He did so, and was elected. So far, so good, but the voters could scarcely have been pleased about the next move, which was the filling of Neely's vacant seat in the senate. He held off his resignation until minutes before he should take his oath as governor. Then both he and the retiring governor sent nominees to the senate to fill the vacant place.

There was a terrible to do in the senate, with the West Virginia newspapers naturally full of it.

BUT this year Neely decided the situation at home was now safe, and he would return to the senate. So he captured the Democratic nomination.

West Virginia has a curious law about filling a vacancy in the gubernatorial chair. The state has no lieutenant governor, but it is provided that the president of the state senate shall become governor, on the death or resignation of the governor, UNLESS—the unexpired term exceeds one year. In that case a special election is mandatory.

Neely's critics pointed out on the stump that either Neely must resign from the governorship, in which case a special election for a new governor must be held, which would cost the taxpayers $500,000 or he must continue as governor until less than one year of his term remained to be served, in which case West Virginia would have a vacant seat in the senate for that length of time. The voters did not like it.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Over at the War Production Board and in a thousand war plants, officials, labor-management committees personnel directors and foremen are battling against one of production's greatest headaches. Officially, it is referred to as "absenteeism."

Actually, it consists of taking "French leave," playing hookey, or going AWOL from a war job—for reasons other than illness or injury.

Joe (War-Worker) Jones wakes up in the morning. It's the kind of a day when the fish are biting or the ducks are flying. Or maybe it's just the morning after the night before. "To heck with it," says Joe. "I got plenty of dough. I been working hard. I need a day off." He takes it.

MULTIPLY Joe by several thousand every day and it means approximately 6,000,000 man days lost a month. In the shipbuilding industry alone, absenteeism is costing the war effort two cargo ships a month.

In Butte, Mont., copper mining officials estimated that absenteeism resulted in the loss of 63,000 pounds of copper a day.

Apply those same percentages to practically every war industry and wonder no longer why the WPB, labor-management committees and personnel directors are so concerned.

Remedies there are and they are numerous. Some of them have cut absenteeism in some plants by more than half. In one western mining town closing the bars on Sunday cut Monday absenteeism more than 60 per cent.

In many plants, there are various forms of personal interview. Workers with sons or brothers in the service call on the absentees at one plant and give them a friendly talking-to. In another plant, absentees without an excuse of illness are greeted with a vari-colored "AWOL time card" which instructs them to report to the personnel director for a conference.

In several factories, absentees are "paid" for the days they missed in "Hitler money," with a note from Der Fuehrer thanking them for their contribution to HIS war effort.

CONTESTS with bonuses in war bonds for perfect attendance records are common. In some plants, they give little badges.

But the problem still is with war production in a big way. Some of the increase is believed due to the greater number of women and older persons employed, but most of it comes from those big increases in the pay envelope and that perennial inclination of American youth to play hookey once in a while.

Daily Bible Thought

These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.—Revelation 7:14.

Timely Editorial

Water Is Good Enough.

Mrs. Lou Cordell of Durham, Oklahoma, designated by Secretary Knox to christen the U. S. S. Choctaw, a navy tug, at its launching, used a bottle of water from a farm well instead of the customary champagne.

"I have three sons in the navy," said Mrs. Cordell, "and well water was good enough to raise them on to fight for their country. It ought to be good enough for the Choctaw."

It probably never hurt a ship to shower it with champagne, but to employ an expensive "luxury wine," associated in public thought with dissipation and frivolity, seems out of place in launching ships to take part in the grim and deadly serious business of freeing half the world from the grip of brutal tyranny.—Christian Science Monitor.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Robert Louis Stevenson, essayist, novelist and poet, was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, on Nov. 13, 1850. Stevenson's personal appearance is often described as tall, extremely thin, dark-haired, restless and compelling attention with the luster of his brown eyes. From infancy on he suffered from great fragility of health. Only the last four years of his life did he enjoy circumstances of abounding health and vigor. These years he spent on the island of Samoa, where he died in 1894.

A Farmer's Diary

A Rare Gift

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I OFTEN passed a certain centralized school, and marveled at its symmetry and beauty of design. Everything about it spoke of quality. From the number and size of the windows, I could judge the well lighted spacious rooms. It fitted into its setting, among the hills of a little village, and created an atmosphere of dignity and culture.

"That's a rare building," I remarked to a native of the town. "Tell me more about it. Such a work of art doesn't happen anywhere by accident."

"The man who designed that school was a friend of mine—an artist," the old man said. "He studied in New York and then went aboard. He came back here to live, and painted scenes that sold for big money. He lived alone for a while, in a little old house near town, and once he surprised the board of education by inviting himself to a board meeting, when he'd heard they were about to plan a new school building. They'd have several architects make designs, and when he'd look 'em over, he asked if he could submit one of his own. So he did. He not only made a blueprint, but he drew a colored sketch to show 'em how 'twould look. Right away they liked it, but when they asked his price, he shook his head.

"If you'll let me," he said, "it won't cost you anything at all, and I'll supervise the building of it."

"The board members couldn't believe their ears. "But why for nothing?" one asked him.

"I love this place," the artist answered quietly. "For most of my life I've fed my very soul upon the beauty of this countryside. I've tried to express its' rhythm, its tone, its color, and I've received not only money for my work, but gratitude from many people who loved natural beauty, too, and saw what I tried to do. Now, if you'll permit me, I'd like to leave something in your midst that I hope will be a joy to everyone who lives around it. I'd like to put into it the best and noblest the community has given me."

"That's what he said—and there it stands. He's gone—but what he did will always bless this neighborhood."

'NO SURRENDER,' ON WEEK'S NEW BOOK RELEASES

Tells Story of Young Dutch Lawyer in Holland After Nazi Occupation.

Set in a different locale is the new book "No Surrender" written by Martha Albrand who presents the story of a young Dutch lawyer living in Holland after the German occupation, for her exciting espionage novel to be available Monday at the Mansfield Public library.

Married to an American girl, the lawyer accepts a government position under the surveillance of the Gestapo and is considered a traitor to his country by his wife and best friend. But is he? Miss Albrand brings a new twist to the tale which will have her readers wondering which side the Dutchman is on.

CRESCENT CARNIVAL by Frances Parkinson Keyes is a novel of love and drama covering three generations whose background is glamorous and romantic New Orleans. It is the story of Stell Fontaine, queen of the 1940 Carnival, of her grandmother, of the charming, philandering Breckenridge men and of modern Patty Forestal who, despite her youth, has the courage to carry on when the Carnival era ends.

MY HEART FOR HOSTAGE by Robert Hillyer, a nostalgic romance has its setting in the Paris of Elliot Paul—the Paris that used to be. The year is 1919—just after the first World War. It is the story of Edward, a young American lieutenant, and Germaine, a spirited and lovely French girl.

OTHER FICTION: VILLAGE OF GLASS by Frost

AN APPLE FOR EVE by Norris.

BATTLE AT THREE-CROSS by MacDonald.

THE RIDDLE OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT by Robert Bendiner, the managing editor of "The Nation," is an anaylsis of the state department during the last decade. The author brings forward the facts that lie behind its contradictory and disturbing foreign policy. An excellent piece of writing that should be read by every intelligent American

WE'RE IN THIS WITH RUSSIA by Wallace Carroll is an answer to the question "Can We Do Business With Russia?" American opinion of the Soviet Union has been dangerously unrealistic, the author says. We must learn from the mistakes of the past and listen to the men who know the facts. Carroll is one of these men—his book is the culmination of his many years' study of Russian relations—and the core of his book is a plea for a realistic policy toward Russia, without condescension, as between equals.

DOGS AGAINST DARKNESS by Dickson Hartwell, a complete and absorbing story tells of the famous Seeing Eye dogs and the institution behind them—from the very beginning of the idea to the present day. The reader is taken behind the scenes and gets a surprising picture of the dogs, for the book is filled with human interest stories as well as facts

I FLEW FOR CHINA by Captain Royal Leonard, one of America's outstanding young airmen, is a vigorous and colorful book in which the author recounts the story of his six years' service flying for the Republic of China and as personal pilot for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek

BOOM SPEEDS BRIDGE FUNDS

War Industries Cause Tolls to Climb to $42,000.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A "boom" in vehicular traffic over the state-owned Pomeroy bridge brought from an Ohio bridge commission official today the prediction that it would be toll-free by 1945.

Ray Palmer commissioner secretary, reported that a war industry across the Ohio river near Point Pleasant, W. Va., had skyrocketed tolls on the bridge, enabling the state to retire $42,000 in bonds on the span this year. $14,000 more than was paid off in the five preceding years. The bonds were not due for 14 years. A total of $280,000 in bonds still is outstanding.

DISPLAY ART

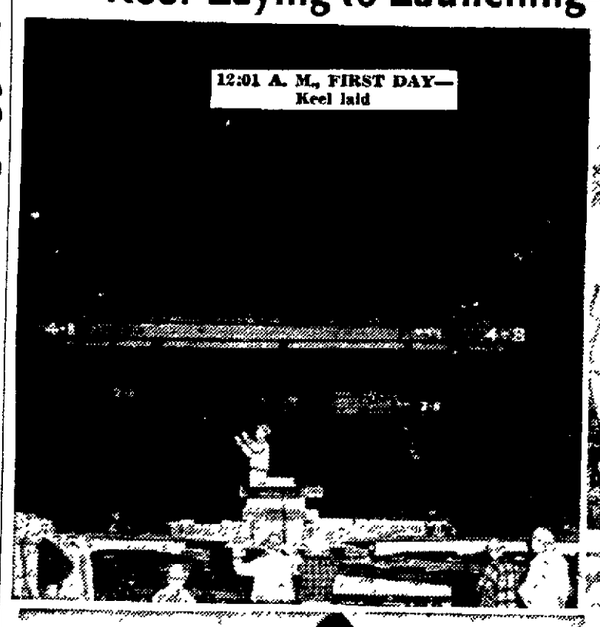
TOLEDO—(INS)—Forty-five fine contemporary British paintings which crossed sub-infested seas last summer are being shown for the first time in the United States at the Toledo Museum of Art.

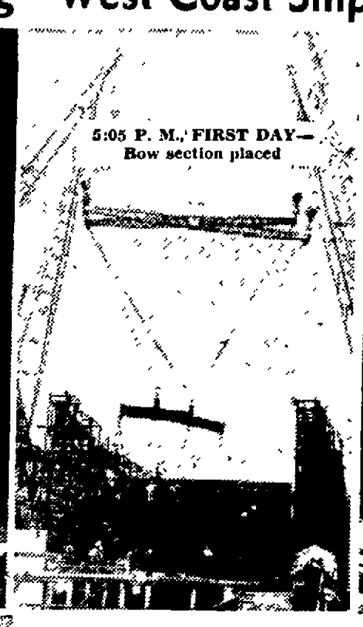
With these paintings are 69 others, also contemporary, and 44 representative British drawings and prints

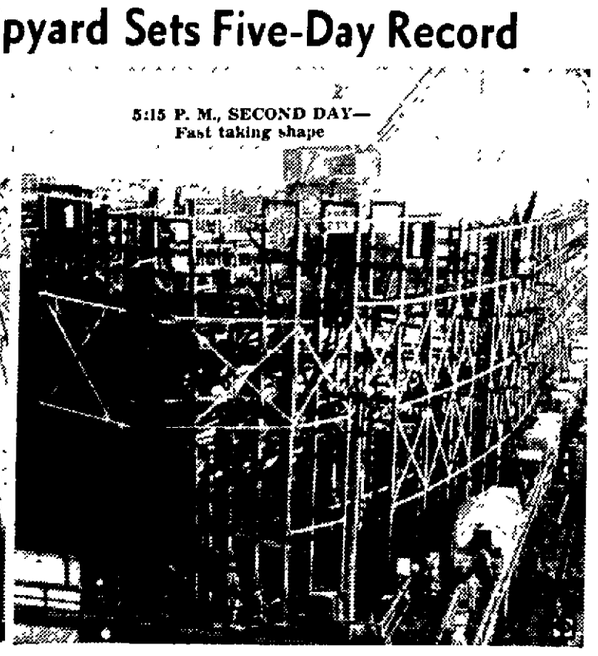
LOOTS 'FRAT' HOUSES

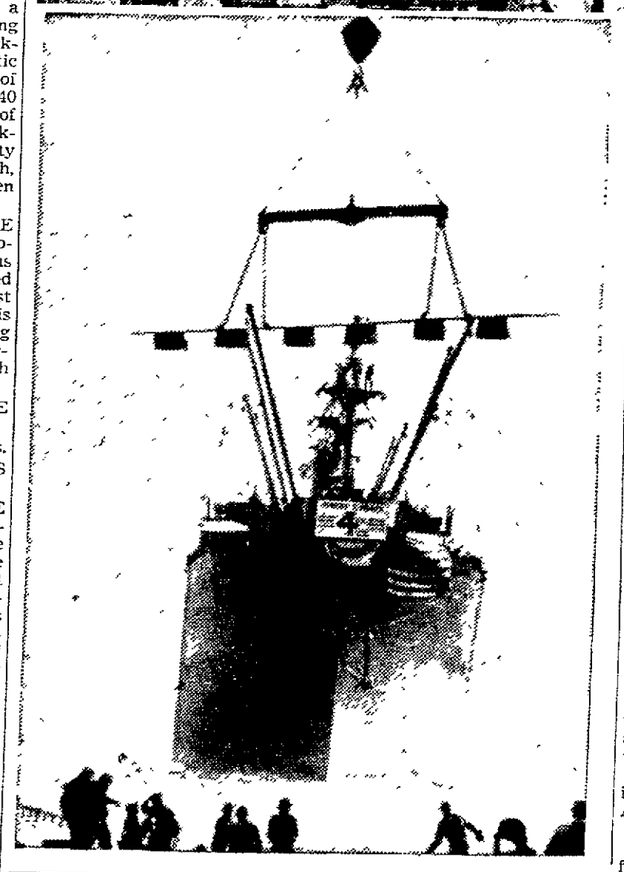
BERKELEY, Cal.—(U.P.)—Fraternity houses at the University of California recently were victimized by a second "Raffles," or gentleman burglar. He first would enter a "frat" house, plug in an electric razor and while shaving himself explain that he was a "brother" from some eastern college. After his departure, sums of money ranging up to $40 usually were missing.

Keel-Laying to Launching---West Coast Shipyard Sets Five-Day Record









Five days from keel-laying to launching is the new record set by Henry J. Kaiser's Richmond, Cal., shipyards in the construction of the 10,000-ton merchant freighter Robert E. Peary. The speed was accomplished by prefabrication. In the picture at the bottom, the Peary is seen sliding down the ways, fully completed and ready to carry war materiels to the Allied fronts.

New Yorker Was First Soldier to Reach Australia

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA — (INS) — Sergeant Bob Craig, of New York City, claims to be the first American combat soldier to step foot on Australian soil in this war.

He was attached to a unit which left Pearl Harbor a few days before Dec. 7, bound for the Philippines. Craig's unit reached an Australian port Dec. 22.

He was first to step from a launch which put out from his ship.

Although other members of his unit moved on to another war theater, Craig stayed in Australia to become a special service officer and editor of a base section newspaper which made its first appearance recently.

Apart from that he is kept busy trying to convince army postal authorities that he is not still with the unit which went on to India.

And he hasn't received a letter in the ten months he has been in Australia!

COMMUNITY SURVEY ANSWER FORM

(Copyright, 1941, Wid Gunning)

EACH DAY OF THE WEEK ..... TO .....

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

On Page 1 of the paper each day you will find a list of the advertisements to be checked that day.

All you have to do is to decide each day which Large Ad, which Medium Ad and which Small Ad you think will do the advertiser the most good. Just write three names on this blank each day.

$750.00 in awards go to those readers whose selections are nearest to what the majority of readers think. Every week is a separate survey with a dozen or more cash awards each week.

Every member of any family may send in one answer each week and there are many awards each week, but only one award for a good answer will go to any one family in any one week.

I THINK THESE ADS WILL DO THE ADVERTISERS THE MOST GOOD.

	LARGE ADS	MEDIUM ADS	SMALL ADS
Sun.
Mon.
Tues.
Wed.
Thurs.
Fri.
Sat.

You are NOT required to write a letter to receive an award.

The awards are decided on the selections above. We would really appreciate it, though, if you would write a note saying what you DO NOT LIKE and . . . also . . . WHY YOU LIKED some of the good ads.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with the awards . . . but . . . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our merchants.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given to the merchants to help them to improve their advertisements BUT the merchants will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

Answers Must Be In By Tuesday Midnight The Week After the Selections Are Made!

A GOOD AD COSTS NOTHING!

Certainly! That's a Fact!

Of course, that's why we want to know how to write ads the way you want them!

If an ad fails to interest or convince anyone—it costs us money!

When an ad interests, attracts and convinces many of you readers—it makes it possible for us to serve a lot of you—and the business we do together helps us both!

That good ad cost nothing!

It brought profit to you and to us because it ought us all together—as nothing else could!

It's very easy to help us to help you in the Community Survey.

Just write down each day which three ads you think are best. If you select the ads picked by most of the other readers, you get a cash award for your good judgment. In any case, we will appreciate your helpful cooperation.

Some of us have ads every day, some only once a week. You will find a list each day divided into three groups, LARGE, MEDIUM and SMALL, and you only need to select which you think is the best ad in each group that day.

Belated Inquiry To Be Opened By State Into Crossing Elimination Project.

No paving work has been started on the north lane and Sours admitted that the 90-day extension likely would cover a period beginning next April, probably necessitating diversion of traffic to the detour through a third summer.

Sours said he would give Division Engineer Vance Grimes at Ashland orders that the one lane be opened this fall, regardless of any extension grants.

Sours said that he didn't think the contractors "deliberately stalled" on the job because "contractors have to pay for engineering services beyond the regular completion date."

However, no penalty clause is involved in the federal-state contract for failure to meet the specified completion date, Sours said.

Federal Engineer Baker explained that about 14 working days would be required for pouring the concrete for the end junctions of the south lane which would extend the job beyond the deadline. The junction at West Fourth street would be only temporary and would be rebuilt into its permanent form next summer to link up with the north lane.

State highway department engineers and maintenance of way engineers of the Erie railroad declared several weeks ago they could see no season why the Lombardos could not complete the entire job on schedule. The Erie subway was slowed up on the Lombardo plea that welders were unavailable

The Erie located permanent tracks across the structure last week and trains have been moving both east and west over the span since Monday

Grimes indicated early in September that he would be inclined to recommend the extension which was filed with him in August.

Baker explained that boiler equipment and the use of straw covering would permit the pouring of concrete during extreme cold weather.

When it was pointed out that, with the subway and overhead completed, the south channel concrete was laid in a comparatively short time and asked why the north lane couldn't be laid in a shorter time, Baker smilingly replied he had no control over the granting of extensions.

With the project thus far requiring 17 months, motorists who use the highway fear the 90-day request, if granted, will be merely a forerunner of other extension requests next summer.

past, particularly during the ill-starred Greek campaign.

It is backed by the Fascist propaganda ministry's broadcasts to the people. As overheard by American listening posts, the Rome radio is exhorting Italians to cease their trembling.

This is not to say that Italians, cowed by 20 years of Fascism and now by the Germans in their midst, are ready for revolt, although a rebellion might develop from a successful invasion.

Reports reaching government circles in Washington tell merely of a little more deterioration in morale since we left Rome last May, the same suppressed animosity toward the Germans and the same friendly feeling toward Americans

With such a feeling prevailing, Hitler is said to be diverting German army divisions from Russia to Italy.

They would be the first German infantry to occupy Italy. The estimated 250,000 Germans on Italian soil thus far have been aviation units, complete with ground and supply crews, and sailors for German submarines in the Mediterranean, as well as gunners for Italian warships. Mussolini has been holding a million or more men under arms in Italy against invasion while his propagandists were attempting to laugh off the possibility.

Presumably any Allied invasion forces would try first to take the islands, Sicily, Sardinia and Crosiia, that form unsinkable "aircraft carriers" for the Italian and German air forces on the invasion route.

The capture of Bizerte in Tunisia, on the other hand, would give the American and British warships and submarines a splendid naval base, one of the best in the world, with a deep, virtually land-locked lake reached by a narrow channel from the Mediterranean. And that base is only 150 miles from Sicily, and 300 miles from southern Italy, where military experts say the invasion most likely would be attempted.

REPORTS $1,500 EXPENSES

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Supreme Court Judge Roy H. Williams of Sandusky reported that in his successful campaign for reelection he spent $1,519, of which $1,200 was donated to the Republican state campaign committee.

Plans Indicate Work On Ohio Pipeline Due In December.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Construction of an oil pipeline across Ohio may be started by Dec. 1, official quarters in Washington disclosed today. The 24-inch line is to cost an estimated $60,000,000 and will be used to carry oil from Illinois to the east coast.

According to present plans, the line will follow a route north of Washington Court house and south of Columbus.

The city of Namur in Belgium, which formerly suffered from the overflowing of the Sambre and Meuse rivers, has been noted for its stilt-walkers for many centuries.

See the difference BEFORE you buy!

DO YOU like to know what you're getting before you buy? If you do, come in and see the hogs we're raising in our store. They're litter mates. About 2 months ago we started one on straight grain and the other on grain supplemented with Purina Hog Chow.

You can easily see that the "grain-and-Hog Chow" hog is way ahead of the "straight grain" pig Looks like he'll weigh twice as much in another month. Yet his cost per 100 lbs. of gain is considerably lower!

Come in, folks, and see for yourself. Lots of farmers drop in every week or so to "watch 'em grow."

V.E.P. Alloyed-Oil adds 50% to the life of your motor

Here's how V.E.P. saves wear, cuts upkeep costs

1. THREE TIMES THE RESISTANCE TO "SHOCK", caused by quick starts, high speeds and motor-braking ... to the extreme heat and pressures which are so characteristic of today's high-compression motors.
2. AVOIDS "FIRST-MINUTE" DAMAGE! A "magnetic-like" film of V.E.P. clings to pistons and cylinder walls overnight You get lubrication during the critical period it takes crankcase oil to get to vital parts.
3. RIDS YOUR MOTOR OF HARMFUL SLUDGE, carbon, varnish. V.E.P. dissolves the binder that makes them stick to rings, valves, pistons, cylinder walls. "Housecleans" motor ... and keeps it clean.

New. Different. Scientific tests show V.E.P. will make your motor last half again as long as it would with ordinary oil. Why wait? Why not start getting these "bonus miles" ... start saving on gasoline, oil, repairs, with V. E. P. today?

35¢ quart

SUNDAY, TUNE IN "VIEWS ON THE NEWS" with Gregor Ziemer, Carroll Alcott, William Hessler and Arthur Reilly, Sunday afternoon, 4:30-5.00 P. M., Eastern War Time, NBC Network Stations WLW, WOWO, WSPD, WCOL, WGBF, WBOW.

V.E.P. SAVES OIL. By freeing valves, tight rings, unplugging the slots in your oil rings, V.E.P. prevents burning of excessive oil in combustion chamber ... conserves it, instead

V.E.P. SAVES GASOLINE. V.E.P's cleaning action frees valves and piston rings ... gives a tighter seal ... saves lost compression ... turns gasoline into power instead of waste. A clean motor is a more efficient motor ... a more economical motor

Select Your Footwear With Care

By MME. QUI VIVE

Aching feet will give the most saint-like woman a fine case of jitters. She wants to snap and snarl and bite. She may think it is an accumulation of irritations that makes her feel that way, but it isn't. Her poor trotters are protesting against abuse.

The housewife who hotfoots it around all the day long is doing herself an injustice if she does not purchase shoes that provide proper support. The thoughtless mistress of the home may make it a practice to wear casings that were resigned for evening wear, and have had their day. Or she may slop around in heel-less slippers, a habit for which she should be sternly rebuked. What money is saved in leather eventually goes to the chiropodist and in the meantime she suffers untold discomfort.

Women save money in the queerest ways.

Do you know that 70 per cent of civilized women have foot ills? Many of them have deformities like hammer toes, bunions, tendons that are under strain. It seems senseless. Money is flung right and left for permanents, cosmetics, facials, manicures, and nail polish. But for pedal care and comfort there seems never to be even a thin dime.

The time is gone when women expect to "break in" shoes. Common sense tells one that shoes should be comfortable at the first wearing. Our young people have no shame about wearing shoes amply large and, in that respect, they are more sensible than some mothers who still endeavor to find lasts that make the foot look smaller. It can't be done. That is the reason for the spiked heel, a horror if there ever was one, throwing the entire body out of balance, causing strain on leg muscles and the spinal column.

As few women realize just what qualifications the right casing should have it is wise to patronize a shop where clerks are well informed, can direct the cash customer as to the best selection.

He will insist that the buyer stand and walk in the new shoes, throwing the full weight of the body on the foot that is placed upon the floor.

The length and width of the shoe must have careful consideration, but that's not all of the problem. The curve of the arch varies, and that requires attention, as does the instep. Sometimes the human heel is unusually wide, and the width of the shoe must conform.

One must not be casual about selecting shoes. If there is friction or pressure anywhere, the flesh will harden, corns will form. When that happens there is a fine kettle of fish. Corns have a way of staying by one. So don't go get them in the first place.

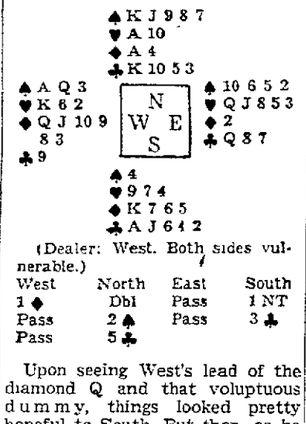
"The Authority on Authorities"

EXTREMES IN EXTREMITY

Finding yourself in an extremity is likely to call for extreme measures. That is your situation when your partner has expressed glorious confidence in your card playing ability by bidding you beyond your depth—higher than your cards justify. It is also the case when you have done that optimistic bidding yourself, or when you have let your opponents push you too high.



(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Dbl	Pass	1 NT
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣
Pass	5 ♣

Upon seeing West's lead of the diamond Q and that voluptuous dummy, things looked pretty hopeful to South. But then, as he analyzed his problem, he saw one loser in each major suit, the chance of one in trumps and the necessity of somehow getting rid of one of his losers in hearts and two in diamonds. Setting up the spades appeared the best plan, so he embarked upon it.

Winning the opener with his diamond K, he led to the club K, having decided to count East for the guarded trump Q because West showed long diamonds in the bidding. Hence the club J finesse held, and the A settled the Q. Now for the spades. West came in with his A on the lead of the 4—good fortune indeed. He returned the diamond 9 to the A.

Now the spade K won, for a heart discard, the ruffed spade 7 took out the Q, the heart 7 went to the A, the spade J and 9 furnished discards of the last heart and a diamond, the heart 10 was ruffed by the club 6, and the diamond 7 by the club 10.

Thus a hand which looked pretty tough at one stage produced not only a successful contract, but an extra trick as well, for the defenders' only trick was that won by the spade A.

Child Needs Playmates His Own Age

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

AS A RULE, the best playmates for a child are those about his own age. We parents can't be real playmates for our children. We can be good companions to them. We even can play certain games with them, profitably, in case they are able to win at least half the time.

We can make things with our children, especially with the older ones. But most of the games they play and most of the things they do are played and made with more value to them when done with other children about their age. They need competition, skills and conversation with their contemporaries.

Our place as parents is to understand our growing children, and set the stage for their best growth and development. We need to treat the child always with great respect as a person, making him feel worthy and comfortable in a family atmosphere of wise affection. From the time he begins speech we should never laugh at what he says nor make him feel self-conscious about his speech or person.

We shall provide him with proper playthings and tools and other equipment for his home education. We should guide him in wholesome restraints and due regard for the rights of others, we should attract other children of his own age to our home, one or so at first, more later. We should let him settle his own quarrels and fight his own battles.

Encourage Playmates

So long as the tot or runabout plays out in the open in the view of all and is not annoying anyone else nor jeopardizing property, parents should not forbid his playing with any other child. Other children should be welcome in the home so long as they abide by our rules and we can provide adequate supervision.

A mother writes of her tot 2½: "He has neighbor playmates who are all older than he and of course he gets along well with them for they amuse him and give in but he cannot play agreeably with another little boy and girl both of whom are younger. They do not take their own part against him as older children do and he is very rough with them. Please tell me how to treat this case so he might get along better with younger children. A self-addressed envelope stamped with three cents is enclosed."

The Doctor's Reply

Here is the gist of my reply to her. Your child needs to play with other children practically of his own age so as to gain desirable social discipline. Make almost any sacrifice to this end. In spite of anything you can do he will lord it over weaker, younger children, under present conditions. The older children protect him and let him have his way. When you have him with children about his own age, don't protect him much. Let him learn to take it. Nursery schools do a great deal with tots, and that is one reason why they afford such valuable education for the young child.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My five-year-old daughter dawdles over her food and it wears me out to see her do it.

A. Don't get irritated. Announce just once to her she must leave the table at the end of 25 minutes with no opportunity for eating before the next regular mealtime. Then prove your word is good.

"Drugged?" Noel and Mary echoed as one, but while Noel kept silent, evidently turning the startling information over in his mind, Mary broke into excited ejaculation.

"So that's it!" she said. "Well! I'm glad to know I wasn't losing my mind and going generally haywire. But who in the world would want to drug us?"

"Perhaps Mr. Spencer will tell us if you give him a chance," Noel admonished gently.

"Don't you dare make noises like a husband!" she said, with a teasing smile. "But I'll be quiet now. I promise you."

Her voice and her smile would have "coaxed the birds off the bushes," and my father smiled at her.

Spencer Explains.

"I can understand your excitement," he said, "but I want you to calm down now and listen. Here is the story."

Then he went over in detail the events of the night, from the time we found them both in a sleep from which we could not rouse them.

"Nice, gifted lad, that Milner!" Mary said. "But I can't feel too angry at him. I don't remember ever having such a glorious sleep. I wish I could find out what brand of dope he uses. I'd like to invest in some."

"Keep the old weskit buttoned, darling," she advised him airily. "I really don't mean to ask him about it. But I warn you that if I ever get hold of pills like those, I'll treat myself to a few unbroken slumbers."

Something in her voice told me she was not always able to sleep, and this surprised and troubled me. But my father was speaking again.

"Better let sedatives alone, Mary," he advised soberly. "You're too young to need them. And now, I mustn't keep you any longer. I'm infinitely obliged to you for staying here to guard the apartment, and sorry you had such an experience."

"Fine guards we made," Mary said ruefully, "knocked out by dope in the first round. But don't waste any time being sorry. I wouldn't have missed it for anything. It will be something to tell our grandchildren, won't it Noel?"

"It will if we ever have any," he said, and I saw first her reproachful look at him, then a brilliant smile.

"We'll have scads of 'em: regular Dionne family," she said, then, with a hand on his sleeve, "Come along, big boy: Didn't you hear the Chief giving us permission to beat it? Au revoir, folks. Thanks for the breakfast."

As they went out I knew Dicky and my father shared my own troubled thought: What lay behind that remark of Noel's?

But none of us voiced it, and my father switched to an entirely different subject.

"Richard and I will go into the other suite," he said, "while you get some badly needed rest. I want you fresh for that interview with Olga, which Philip mentioned a little while ago."

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, Nov. 14.

The astral indications for this day hold conflict and contradictions. There may be a decidedly dependable factor making for sound success, with promise of building it upon foundations of depth, endurance and good judgment in conjunction with industry, perseverance and patience in the face of frustrating conditions or impediments. The great danger may be from an inclination to fly into turbulent, reckless and impulsive action, with ungoverned words and speech, although these may seem justifiable. Aim at and work definitely for stability and enduring worth, but be cautious with papers or writings and shun public involvements.

Those whose birthday it is may be given an opportunity to put the affairs on a firm basis by application, sound tactics and persistent efforts against doubtful and threatening situations or obstacles. This danger might be brought about by rash, impetuous or quarrelsome conduct, with ungoverned acts, words and writings. Be particularly cautious with the latter and be careful not to be guilty of any public offense. With concentration on sound objectives and enduring results, fleeting frustrations may be translated into worthwhile benefits.

A child born on this day should have many sound and dependable abilities and qualities, assuring success and achievement, although it may be impetuous and unruly, also careless with papers, and may be easily imposed upon.

Plan Visit Don't Make It Surprise

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Although he hasn't said so, you suspect that your son has been homesick in camp. You have made up your mind that it would cheer him if you made up a nice, appetizing package of pies, doughnuts and layer-cake and started out to pay him a surprise visit.

It is important that you change your mind as soon as possible about the surprise character of your visit. Just think back a little. Are "surprises" ever successful? Do "surprise parties" ever turn out happily unless the victim is thoroughly informed and prepared in advance? There is only one answer.

In the Army, it seems, such visits are even less desired than in civil life. Remember that the greater part of a soldier's life is devoted to routine. He plans in advance for his time off. A mother, however loving, however beloved, shouldn't attempt to interfere either with her boy's work or his play. But wives, relatives and sweethearts of the men in service (mothers being by no means the only ones given to this indiscretion) have lately been making so many unannounced visits to camps that Randall J. LeBoeuf, Jr., president of National Travelers Aid associations, has publicly explained that surprise visits "lead to nothing but bitter and expensive disappointments."

Consult the USO Travelers Aid Service before you plan your visit, Mr. LeBoeuf advises. In his useful "ten commandments" he urges that every possible detail of the visit be arranged in advance by the service man and his visitor. Be sure you have enough money in your purse, don't talk to outsiders about your plans, and don't fail to leave the baby at home.

It goes without saying that a visitor must know not only the name but the rank, unit, exact address and, if possible, the military number of the soldier who is to be visited. If these rules are followed, the visit should result in happiness for everybody concerned.

CHAPTER XV

"But you were right to expose Terry Davidson," Livia comforted him. If only Elizabeth would get over it. Perhaps if she went home? But the suggestion brought the fever to the pale cheeks.

"I just can't go back there and explain to Dad," she whispered, "Let me stay here—for a while anyway."

"Of course, darling—anything you say."

Sometimes, as Livia sat by Elizabeth's bedside, she wished impatiently that she would get better. Livia was nervous and restless. She had waited so long for Bruce, and this new obstacle to their marriage seemed ominous. But she was careful to keep these thoughts to herself.

One day Elizabeth said suddenly:

"You're unhappy, Livia."

"Oh, no. What makes you think so?"

"I'm a nuisance, aren't I? You and Bruce would be married but for me—that's it, isn't it?"

"No," Livia tried to make her denial convincing. But it was true. And today she had an additional worry. Bruce was in a plane. His job was to stunt-dive low over the desert. Most of the old-timers in the business had refused the job — even though it paid $500.

"Why should we?" they said, "We're doing all right."

The air in the sandy valleys between the mountains was treacherous. A plane diving could be sucked down suddenly and destroyed. Bruce had laughed at Livia's fears.

"If I start worrying about air pockets I might as well give up my job," he told her.

The telephone jangled in Livia's reverie. It was Bruce.

"How's Elizabeth?" he asked her.

"Fine. And you—how was it?"

"A cinch," Bruce said cheerfully. "The only mistake I made was doing it in one 'take'."

"Bruce!" she protested.

He laughed. "I'll be back in two hours."

"I wish he had a safer job," Livia said to Elizabeth, who was watching her closely.

"You're not really happy," said Elizabeth suddenly, "I wish I knew why."

"You're getting fanciful, my child; it comes of lying in bed thinking," Livia said briskly.

"Perhaps," said Elizabeth thoughtfully.

When Bruce arrived, Elizabeth announced:

"I want to go home."

"Don't listen to her, Bruce. She has a nonsensical idea that she's interfering with our marriage." Bruce sat down by Elizabeth.

"You can go home—when you're ready to travel."

Elizabeth smiled at him. "Did I ever thank you for—" she paused then continued bravely—"for showing me the sort of person Terry really was? Supposing I'd married him—and found out afterwards." Her voice broke a little. "I can talk about it now. I'm practically cured. And I do really want to go home. I want to see the ranch—and Dad. I want to breathe again. I feel sort of choked here in Hollywood."

The next day Elizabeth was more insistent.

"I'll go with Elizabeth," Livia volunteered.

At first Elizabeth protested. "I want you and Bruce to get married."

"We'd have to wait another week now anyway," Livia assured her. "Bruce has a location job in San Diego."

In the plane there were some movie people. Livia listened to them. They were going to Colorado for the picture named after the state. She read about the movie some months ago and thought it was finished.

"I think they're crazy to send us all this way for a few lousy pick-up shots," one pretty girl grumbled.

"It's their money, kid," a man consoled her.

"Yeah, but it's my head," moaned the girl. "Airplanes give me a headache. I wish the Wright Brothers hadn't invented the damn things."

Envy crept into Livia's heart. But she resolutely drove the thought away. She was going to be Bruce's wife, and that was better than any career.

One of the men in the movie group had been staring at Livia curiously. Later Livia heard him ask the stewardess to give him her name. She was inventing a crushing remark for him, when he abruptly left his friends and slipped into the seat opposite Livia and Elizabeth.

"I'm Frank MacDonald," he told Livia. "I've been looking for you a long time. Where've you been hiding?" Livia had heard of MacDonald. He was a talent scout for a big studio. But that did not give him the right to pick her up in a plane.

"Well, now you've found me," she said coldly.

"Awful, wasn't it?"

"Pretty bad," he agreed. There was a slight pause broken by Elizabeth:

"You're extremely rude," she said to MacDonald, who nodded absently as though in agreement. He studied Livia coolly, his eyes traveling swiftly over her face and body, finally resting appreciatively on her red-gold hair.

"Your face is too round—but we can fix that," he said absently. Livia's heart raced at double speed. But she said calmly:

"What are you trying to tell me?"

"How would you like to work at my studio?" Without letting Livia reply he continued: "As a stock girl at $75 a week. You have a lot to learn, but I think you've got something."

"Sorry," said Livia with finality. "But you're six months too late. I'm getting married to Miss Nolan's brother." She introduced Elizabeth.

"Bruce Nolan?" She nodded. "You could do both—be married and have a career. This is 1941."

"I hate the movies," MacDonald was surprised at her sudden outburst.

"Okay," he said getting up, "I'll be in Colorado for a week. If you change your mind, you know where to find me." He wrote his address on the back of an envelope.

"It's a waste of time," she told him.

"Sure, sure, but keep it."

"All right—but don't hold your breath until you hear from me."

"I won't," he promised her and rejoined the movie group.

Elizabeth pressed Livia's hand. "Bruce will make you happy," she said.

"Of course, he will. Why do you say that?" Livia's voice was high and sharp.

They were coming down now. The plane bucked and threshed like a harpooned whale. Elizabeth looked so pale that Livia thought she would faint. She was glad when the plane touched earth. And she was so occupied in looking after Elizabeth that she did not notice the departure of the movie people and Frank MacDonald. And she rarely thought of them during the first few days at Judge Nolan's ranch.

It was Elizabeth's idea that she should not be introduced to Judge Nolan as the future wife of his son.

"I want him to know you first and love you as I do. Then we'll tell him."

So all he knew about Livia was that she was a friend of Elizabeth's. The judge was shocked when he realized how ill Elizabeth had been.

"Why didn't you tell me?" he stormed, "But that's the way with all the members of my family. I'm the last one they confide in. Do you know that obstinate son of mine — Bruce?" he suddenly asked Livia.

"Yes, I know him," Livia replied, "and I don't think he's obstinate." The judge looked at her. He opened his mouth to speak but remained silent.

Later, when they were sitting on the wide veranda he thanked Livia for bringing Elizabeth home.

"You'll stay with us for the summer, won't you?" he said. Livia smiled into eyes that were a tired replica of Bruce's and looked at the fine head with its shaggy white hair.

"I wish I could—but I have to get back."

"What for?"

"I'm getting married," Livia said and winked at Elizabeth.

"Oh—is he an actor?" he demanded abruptly.

"In a way," Livia admitted.

"I'm going to bed," Elizabeth said. Livia jumped to her feet.

"I'll go with you," she said. She remained with Elizabeth until she fell asleep.

The next day Livia rode with the judge over the estate. She had been prepared to dislike him. But despite herself, she was drawn to the despotic old man. He was grateful to Livia for taking care of Elizabeth, and he displayed his best manners. It would be nice to have a man like him for a father, Livia thought, and wondered what he'd say if he should meet Earl Dixon.

How strangely Dixon had disappeared. Was he dead? She shivered in the hot sunshine.

The next day Frank MacDonald telephoned her.

"You've reconsidered?" he said calmly.

"No," Livia replied vehemently.

"Fine. I'll bring over the contract for you to sign."

"You can bring it—but I won't sign it." Livia slammed the receiver down and turned indignantly to Elizabeth, who was reading a book. She started to speak to Elizabeth, but changed her mind. It was useless to deceive herself further. She wanted to sign that contract. Perhaps if she explained to Bruce, he would understand.

"I'm going back to Hollywood," she told Elizabeth.

"That contract—you're accepting it?"

"Yes." It was a relief to admit this at last. "I can't help myself," she said, looking away from Elizabeth's clear eyes, "Maybe I'll fail again. But if I do, it will be my fault. But I've got to try again. I'd never forgive myself—or Bruce—if I let this opportunity slip by. Bruce will understand and we can be married just the same."

"And if he doesn't?" Elizabeth asked softly.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Nobody Knows What Happens.

The boys in show business like to fancy themselves as hard-headed fellows with both feet on the ground and both hands in the box office till, but actually they traffic in a sort of magic that would puzzle an Indian fakir or a voodoo princess.

Kilgallen

Face to face with an authentic miracle, the crowd in Lindy's or Sardi's or Shubert Alley would unquestionably remain skeptical, but they are confronted regularly with phenomena of a sort that more credulous citizens would consider otherworldly.

Of all the mysteries of the theater and its kindred arts, none is more baffling than the sudden inexplicable rise of an unknown performer to stardom. One day the artist — as only his contract calls him — is drudging along, sometimes working, sometimes not.

Then, without his altering a syllable or a note or an inflection, it happens. The chemicals fuse or the wand is waved or the rabbit comes out of the hat, and overnight a Name is created.

How it happens is the thing nobody can explain. There are stars made by painstaking publicity, by shrewd management and careful selection of material, but these are the minority. Mostly, it just happens.

It happens to almost all comedians. The one you will never forget, of course, was a thin-faced blond young man named Danny Kaye, who sang songs that delighted a few devotees, but left most critics completely frigid. Then, one October, Danny managed to get booked into La Martinique, and those same songs and same gestures became a rage.

An out-of-work art teacher named Zero Mostel auditioned his insane whimsey for every agent in town without getting a nibble until Barney Josephson took a chance on him at Cafe Society downtown; now he's getting a salary way over the government limit.

Joe E. Lewis, a hit in Chicago, couldn't—as the saying goes—get arrested in New York, until an engagement at Loew's State a few seasons ago, for no apparent reason, turned him into Manhattan's favorite funnyman.

The band business is loaded with similar stories. . . Artie Shaw had a likeable orchestra, but nobody started tearing buttons off his suit until his same 14 municians got together on a tune called "Begin the Beguine."

Benny Goodman was innocently playing a stretch at a San Francisco ballroom when, overnight, it happened to him—and a Chicago date, at the same spot where a few months before he had done just adequately, smashed all records and sent Benjamin into the N. Y. Paramount as a new national sensation.

Count Basie was buried out in Kansas City until John Hammond and Benny Goodman dropped in one evening and started him on the gravy train.

Abbott and Costello were a pair of burlesque comedians living in third-rate hotels until a guest spot on the Kate Smith show gave them a chance to do a cleaned-up version of their age-old routines.

Dinah Shore was just a highly competent girl singer till she got together with a song called, "Yes, My Darling Daughter." Dinah sang it as she'd sung a hundred other tunes, but the voice that had registered only mildly up until then suddenly broke the popularity barometer.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Because, just because. . . .

Coons

Jane Wyatt is one of our own town's best-liked people because she's always—Jane Wyatt.

HARRY CAREY, who won't drive an automobile and insists on old-fashioned lamplight in his study, is thinking of taking a flight if he can arrange one in a bomber—because he fell in love with "Mary Ann" the bomber heroine of "Air Force." . . .

Preston Foster dislikes to turn his back to the camera—because he thinks he's broader in the beam than an atheletic leading man should be. . . .

Because Col. W. S. Van Dyke, the "hurry-up" director, seldom uses a chair on his sets but prefers to stand, the "Gentle Annie" crowd presented him with a personalized—and very fancy—step-ladder to rest foot on. . . .

Maureen O'Hara dislikes being photographed in her home—because she believes such pictures are inevitably the forerunner of divorce in Hollywood. But Dame May Whitty and Ben Webster, married 50 years, don't mind home pictures. . . .

BECAUSE of the $5,000 set limitation, the "China Girl" company took over a six-story office building in downtown Los Angeles—to double as a six-story office building. Clever. . . .

Because Dinah Shore's 21-inch waist, supposed to be the slimmest in radio, is laced within 18 inches of its life for "Thank Your Lucky Stars" she has to be plenty careful about light lunches. . . .

Lucille Ball's blond hair is now carrot-red — because "DuBarry Was a Lady" is in color. Desi Arnaz, her husband, says she's protographing like a million—"and I'm not prejudiced," he says. . . .

Lucille dislikes bathing suit scenes outdoors, but not for the usual reason. She's not ashamed of her legs, but her skin is sensitive to sun. . . .

GOP 'Prospects' Fight to Pick Chairman

GOV. BRICKER RETAINS HIS FULL CABINET

All Accept, Begin Drafting Budget Estimates; GOP Caucus Moved Up.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—Governor Bricker's entire cabinet, accepting en masse the chief executive's invitation to remain with him through his coming third administration, today began drafting their budget estimates and the proposals they wish to submit to the 95th general assembly to improve the functioning of their departments.

The legislature, meanwhile, began preparations for the beginning of its session on Jan. 4 with the announcement by William M. McCullough, Miami county Republican and speaker of the house, that the organization caucus of the Republican members-elect would be held either Nov. 27 or Nov. 30.

These dates were chosen in place of the usual December caucus date, he explained, to beat gasoline rationing which goes into effect Dec. 1.

Bricker met with his cabinet at a luncheon meeting, and following their acceptances of appointments for his third straight term, were assigned their duties to speed the legislature and enable it to complete its duties in the short session which the governor desires.

State Finance Director Herbert Defenbacher and State Tax Commissioner William S. Evatt, himself a former finance director, were given the task of starting work on the bulky budget bill immediately.

Highway Director Hal G. Sours said he would draft legislation providing an immediate lowering of the state speed limit to 35 miles an hour, to meet the national standards set up as a tire conservation measure.

George A. Strain, director of industrial relations, was instructed to prepare recommendations for changing the hours of labor for women as a war measure.

The civilian defense legislation, which has been found to be studded with loopholes, is to be revamped by Commerce Director Charles H. Jones.

LEAP TO SAFETY

Shelby Residents Jump From Car as Train Approaches.

SHELBY—Three Shelby residents jumped from a car just in time to escape injury about 11 p. m. Thursday when a Big Four train demolished the automobile at the North Broadway crossing in Shelby.

Jack Perry was driving and his companions were Charles Perry and Doras Colledge. The locomotive carried the car about a quarter of a mile down the tracks.

The driver told officers the car almost stalled on the tracks and when he saw the train coming, he steered to the right in a futile attempt to get the car clear of the right of way.

FACING DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE

Mansfielder Arrested After Auto Collision.

Theodore A. Greenwalt, 36 Arnold avenue, was arrested on the charge of driving an auto while under the influence of alcohol after ramming the parked car of Eugene F. Poling, 210 Harker street, yesterday evening. Motorcycle Patrolman Arthur Conrady preferred the charge.

Greenwalt's case was continued to Nov. 17 at his request in municipal court this morning.

Glenn Lanning, sr., Mansfield R. D. 1, agreed to pay for damages to car of Homer E. Cole, Mansfield R. D. 4, following a collision at Orange street and First avenue yesterday afternoon.

NAME THREE IN ELECTION FRAUD

Grand Jurors Cite Cuyahoga County Trio After Probe of Petitions.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—Three persons today faced indictments charging irregularities in the circulation of petitions nominating Judge Guy B. Findley of Elyra for the Ohio supreme court.

Those indicted by the Cuyahoga county grand jury were Samuel Marks, Republican precinct committeeman; Irwin P. Metzenbaum, notary public and defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator, and Mrs. Cora Owens, a petition circulator.

The indictments resulted from an investigation started last September by the board of elections and Assistant Prosecutor Saul S. Danceau. The board asserted that hundreds of signatures to the Findley petitions were found to be fraudulent. Judge Findley had employed Marks to handle circulation of the petitions.

Findley later withdrew his candidacy, although testimony showed that he had nothing to do with presentation of fradulent petitions.

Marks was charged with falsely signing the name of Clinton Smith as circulator of three petitions and of misrepresenting the contents of the petitions. Metzenbaum was accused of notarizing petitions without administering an oath and of certifying Mrs. Owens as circulator of petitions without administering the oath to her.

Mrs. Owens was charged with making false signatures and with misrepresenting the contents of petitions.

Demands Growing For Suspension of 40-Hour Week

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Demands for suspension of the 40-hour week rose to a new pitch in congress today amid charges that the nation's labor resources were not being used efficiently.

Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) told reporters he believed the problem of speeding supplies to a large American expeditionary force in North Africa had tremendously increased the need of obtaining the maximum production he felt could be reached only by lengthening the work week.

"The time has come when we must press the fighting stronger and stronger every minute," Byrd declared. "We have to utilize the manpower strength of the country to the fullest extent and we are not doing that with the 40-hour week.

Byrd stressed that he was not advocating the abolition of overtime pay in war industries.

Agreeing generally with this thesis, Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) said he thought it might be well to suspend the premium overtime pay provisions of the 40-hour week for essential civilian industries where labor already was becoming short and employers could not afford to pay wage increases because of price ceilings on their products.

Taft said he believed the manpower shortage was less critical than it had been made to appear.

NAMED TOLEDO MAYOR

TOLEDO —(UNS)— Councilman Lloyd E. Roulet was chosen mayor of Toledo by council. He succeeds John Q. Carey, who was elected to the Lucas county common pleas bench on Nov. 3.

FROLICSOME ELEPHANT PUSHES CAPTOR INTO RIVER, ESCAPES

(By International News Service)

WABASH, Ind. — They vowed today they would recapture "Modoc," the frolicsome circus elephant that has been enjoying a zestful fling at liberty since last Wednesday night.

"They" included Sheriff Vear Howell, his deputies, the state and local police, Terrel Jacobs, owner of the mischievous Modoc, five trainers, and an assorted group of volunteer possemen.

The strategy, unsuccessful on its first trial, was to lure the 2,500-pound elephant back to captivity by getting her near her two elephant playmates, Empress and Judy. The theory was that she would surrender without further ado.

The idea was about to succeed yesterday, but as one of the trainers was leading her with a gaff hook the crowd of curious spectators pressed up closer, Modoc got excited and bumped her would-be captor into the Wabash river with a big splash.

This was entirely unintentional on Modoc's part, her trainers insisted, or if that was her intent, it was just in fun. She's a playful creature.

Another posseman became more excited than Modoc and fell into the river without even a nudge.

There was a report that the perambulating pachyderm chased a girl cub reporter up a tree, but this was denied by the owner as an unjustified reflection on Modoc's affectionate and docile disposition.

But it hardly was possible to deny that she terrified practically the whole population when she broke loose Wednesday night, lumbered down the street, burst into a ground floor basement, and tore loose the plumbing and furnace pipes.

In the chase, she has exhibited a strategy of her own. When the pursuit got too close she simply would ford the Wabash river, leave the posse on the other side.

WIDOW, 74, DIES

Mrs. Effie B. Green Had Been Ill Several Weeks.

Mrs. Effie B. Green, 74, widow of John W. Green, died at her home, 282 South Main street, today at 5 a. m. following an illness of seven weeks.

Mrs. Green, who was born in Clarksville, Tenn., May 10, 1868, had been a resident of Mansfield for more than 60 years. She was a member of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Lillian Beaumont, of Mansfield, and Mrs. Clifford Jackson, of Cleveland, and one brother, Clarence Beaumont, also of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be conducted at the late home Monday at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. William P. Darling, pastor of the Grace Gospel Tabernacle, assisted by Mr. Maurice Fikes. Internment will be in Mansfield cemetery.

JUDGES NAMED

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Probate Judge John W. Howell of Gallipolis has been appointed common pleas judge of Gallia county by Gov. John W. Bricker. William P. Cherrington, Gallipolis attorney, was named probate and juvenile judge.

MAP PLANS FOR TWO MUSICALES

Baptist Choir to Give Two Special Programs.

Announcement was made today of plans for two musicales to be presented at Park Avenue Baptist church, according to Mrs. Edith Fletcher Jameson, director of music, in charge of rehearsals.

A sacred concert by the Baptist choir and assisting artists is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 22, while a pageant, "Birth of Christ," will be staged by the choir on Dec. 20. Among the soloists will be Mrs. Edward Gibson, Mansfield violinist. Both programs will be open to the public and will be at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

SCRAP BEHIND SCENES OVER TOP POSITION

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Prospective candidates for the 1944 G. O. P. presidential nomination are battling behind the scenes today for favorable post positions through the selection of the new Republican national chairman.

Party leaders who regard Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 standard bearer, Governor-elect Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Gov. John Bricker of Ohio as leading the field of presidential aspirants, said that so far none of the candidates is assured of enough votes to name the new chairman.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, jr., of Massachusetts has announced he will resign at a special meeting of the national committee Dec. 7 at St. Louis, in order to devote his entire time to the added responsibilities resulting from the increased Republican house minority.

A majority of those attending the St. Louis meeting will be sufficient to name the new chairman.

A prominently mentioned successor to Martin is Werner Schroeder of Chicago. Schroeder, however, is said to be unacceptable to Willkie, who has been waging a campaign to "purge" his party of isolationism ever since his defeat for president two years ago.

Friends of Schroeder assert that he has not been identified with the non-interventionist group of the party, and that his support of Isolationist Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, R., Ill., for re-election had no bearing on his foreign policy views.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., a leading candidate for the 1940 nomination and regarded as one of those in the running for 1944, said Schroeder was acceptable to him.

Willkie, however, is reported to favor any one of three candidates for chairman: Kenneth Bradley of Connecticut, Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, and Harvey Jewett of South Dakota.

Dewey, according to party leaders, is keeping hands off in accordance with his announced intention of filling out his impending four-year term as governor of New York.

Boy, 16, Rescues His Brother From Monoxide Death

CLEVELAND — (UNS) — Ralph Lansu, 16, was a hero today. He rescued his older brother, Raymond, 18, from death by asphyxiation.

Ralph was listening to the radio while Raymond was taking a bath. Both parents of the boys were away, the father, Alois, was at work at the American Shipbuilding company. Their mother has been ill in City hospital for the past six months. When Ralph didn't hear any noise issuing from the bathroom he decided to investigate and found his brother deathly pale and mumbling incoherently.

When water dashed in his face didn't do any good, the younger boy dragged his brother from the tub. Just then Ralph began to feel dizzy and with a final effort he dragged Raymond into another room, where he collapsed.

Upon regaining consciousness, Ralph called police. Two fire rescue squads answered the call and worked over the two very sick boys. They discovered that a jointed pipe on a hot water heater in the bathroom had separated, filling the room with deadly carbon monoxide.

Plans to send Christmas gifts to more than 700 Japanese-American Girl Reserves in concentration camps, were made last night when members of the Blue Tri Inter-club council met at the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Jessie Crane, Girl Reserve secretary, said today. The council is composed of two representatives of the Girl Reserve clubs in each of the three high schools.

The absence of "available" young men in the county has brought a slump in the marriage license business in probate court during the past six weeks. During October, usually one of the best months in the license business, only 42 couples applied for licenses and so far this month only nine licenses have been issued. In the corresponding six-week period last year, 70 couples asked for marriage permits in the county.

What appeared to be a flagrant case of sabotage at the Hedges pumping station of the city waterworks system a few days ago, proved to be a mere matter of routine work. When a woman living nearby noticed a man handling apparatus at the station she notified Lieut. Bruce Friday of the police department. Plainclothesman Herbert Palmer hurried to the scene. He found Douglas Griffin, sanitary engineer for the state health department, taking water tests. As he approached the woman's home to explain—she had again called the police to report two saboteurs at work—she was armed with a shotgun and ready to open fire. Thanking her for her spirit and advising Engineer Griffin to identify himself in such situations, Palmer returned from his hunt—no game.

Pupils in St. Peter's parochial schools are making good use of the money they are collecting from candy sales and their Christmas seal campaign. Nearly all of the 24 rooms at the schools have contributed to the War Chest campaign while the Christmas seal money is going into a fund for children in missions. The tags pupils are wearing show they have contributed to the Red Cross. The pennies the boys and girls have left over are going into the school "mite boxes" and will be sent to the church mission center in Toledo.

ILLNESS FATAL

Arthur Sines, 38, Taken By Death at Shelby.

SHELBY—Arthur Sines, 38, employe of the Ohio Seamless Tube company, died Thursday afternoon at Memorial hospital after an illness of six weeks.

A native of Putnam county, he had lived in Shelby for 25 years. He was a member of the Eagles lodge.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Dye Funeral home with Rev. Robert McGregor, rector of the Episcopal church, officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lula Sines; one son, Richard; the mother, Mrs. Mary Sines, all of Shelby; two brothers, Lester of Shelby and George of Leetonia, O.; four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Conklin, Mrs. Wren Boreman, and Mrs. Ed. Gutschall, all of Shelby, and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, North Creek, O.

FORMER MORROW RESIDENT DIES

Rites for John R. Fulton to Be Conducted Monday.

MT. GILEAD — John Ralph Fulton, 65, former Morrow county resident, died Thursday at his home in Columbus.

He was born Jan. 16, 1877, in Mt. Gilead and was a member of the First Baptist church in Mt. Gilead.

The body is at the Reuthersberg funeral home in Columbus, but it will be removed Sunday to the Craven funeral home in Mt. Gilead. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the First Baptist church. Burial will be in Rivercliff cemetery.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Blanche Fulton; two sons, Virgil of Binghamton, N. Y., and Cecil of Columbus; one brother, Austin of Mt. Gilead; a sister, Mrs. Zoa Crawford of Mt. Gilead, and one grandchild.

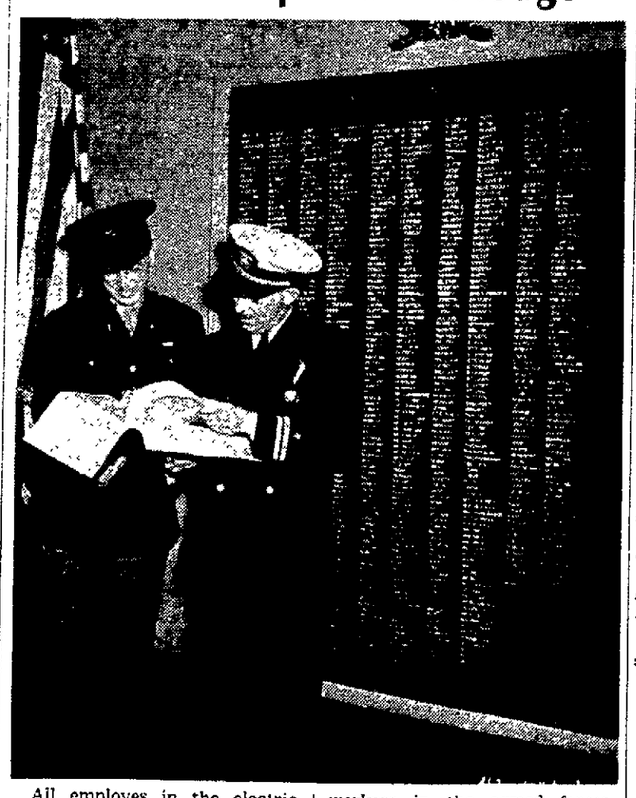
Take 'Keep Mum' Pledge



All employes in the electric appliance division of Westinghouse have signed pledges to "keep Mum" and to avoid damaging slips of the tongue as they carry on vital war work. Standing before an honor roll panel showing former Westinghouse workers in the armed forces Lieutenants G. F. Bateson of the Army and A. E. Heiser of the Navy, inspect the pledges consolidated in a 40-pound volume which will be presented to the War Production Board. The pledges were sponsored by a labor-management group.

LUCAS, MIFFLIN CHURCHES WILL UNVEIL FLAGS

Parents, Relatives of Men In Armed Forces Invited To Ceremonies.

Service flags will be unveiled in two churches in the Mansfield area Sunday, honoring members now in the nation's armed forces.

The two churches are Mt. Zion Lutheran at Lucas and St. Michael's Lutheran at Mifflin. Rev. C. B. A. Stacy preaches at both.

The Mt. Zion ceremony will be at the morning worship service at 9:30 a. m., and that at the Mifflin church at 11 a. m.

Parents and relatives of men in the service of their country have been especially invited to attend the unveiling, Rev. Stacy said. At the M
